Fair Park In Focus

Chris,
This has been a pretty next year at F.P. hope to see you working hard in the future
(Good luck days)

John Ferguson

When one looks at Fair Park he sees not just a building, but he sees a symbol of unification. Through studies, organizations, and activities, Fair Park unites us in an everlasting friendship. Our happy moments, our sad moments, the excitement of an important game, the feeling of success—all of these make up the traditions and environments we share at Fair Park.

Keeping this in mind, the 1964 Sequoyah has attempted to record with the camera the happenings that demonstrate the principles upon which Fair Park exists.

AN AERIAL VIEW shows its bigness and the careful planning with which it has been built over a period of years. A portion of the Louisiana State Fair Grounds can be seen at the upper left.

MOST DISTINGUISHING FEATURE of the architecture of Fair Park is the tower. This has become a symbol of the school itself—second only to the Indian.

The Camera Captures Memories

Throughout the school year there were many memorable moments. The calendar of events was full. Each of these events was an important part of life at Fair Park. Whether it was a pep rally, a class election, or some incident within the walls of the office, we shall always remember these things and associate them with our greatest moments here.

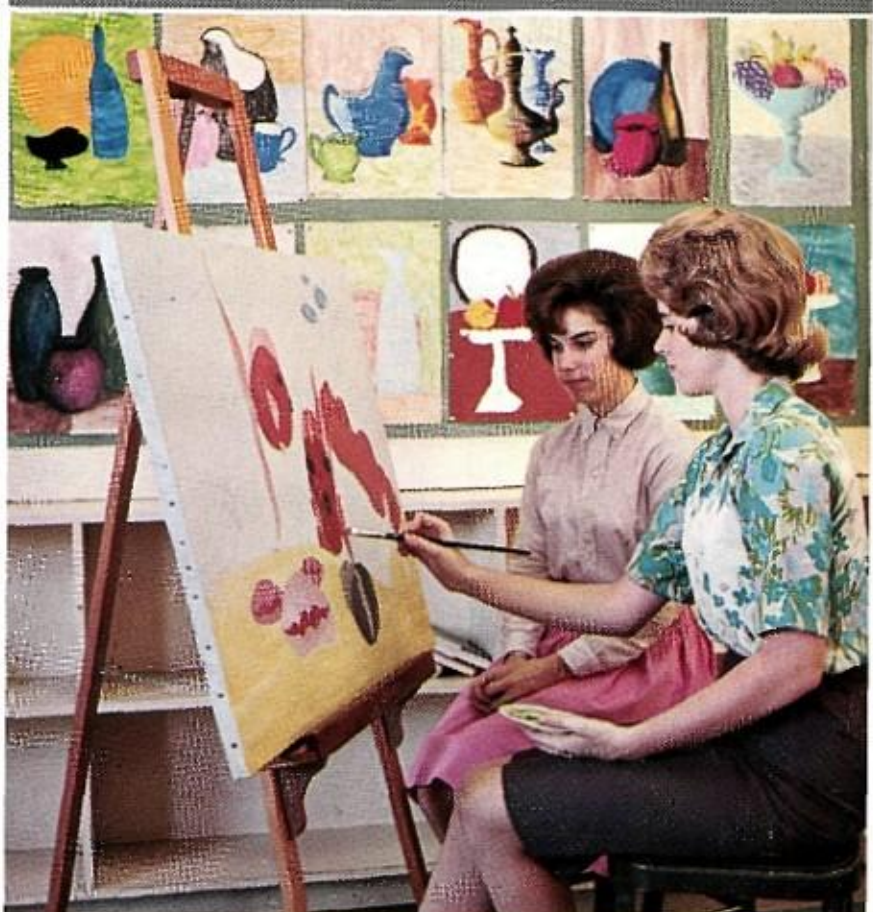

With cameras ready as often as possible, we tried to get into every corner of Fair Park and capture these memories for you.

EVERY STUDENT at one time or another stood here in the office to make a phone call, to check in or out, to get information, or just to talk to Mrs. Mac.

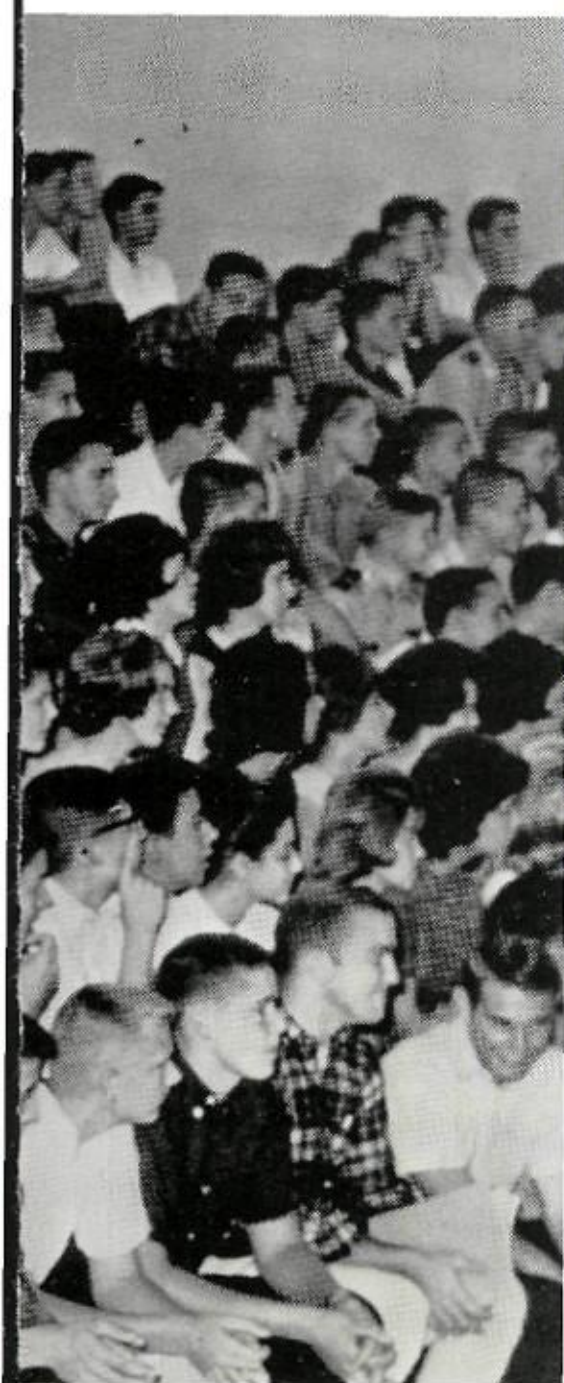

ALL WE NEEDED WAS A REASON, and the crowds that make up the school's eighteen hundred membership assembled quickly and enthusiastically to add their individual voices, applause, and spirit to the event. This particular event was a pep meeting.

A BIG EVENT of the year was the election of class officers. Campaigns reached professional proportions in ingenuity and enthusiasm. Candidates and voters alike took time for thoughts of qualifications.

Chris!
 So a cute boy
 I have enjoyed being with this past two years.
 Here's hoping we can continue to be friends.
 Lots of Luck!
 Loads of Happiness.
 Luck,

From the Student's Point of View

Everyone, of course, has his own opinion of things, but we here at Fair Park seem to think basically the same about things. We gather at the same places during the course of the year. Throughout the halls, in the cafeteria, on the campus, and at many other places we set a trend which distinguishes us from other schools.

Fair Park, from the eyes of a student, is a daily routine of before-school activities and preparation, class schedules, between-class rush, the well deserved lunch break, and then departure for home or after-school activities. To an outsider this seems routine, but to us at Fair Park this is the "Indian" spirit and way of life.

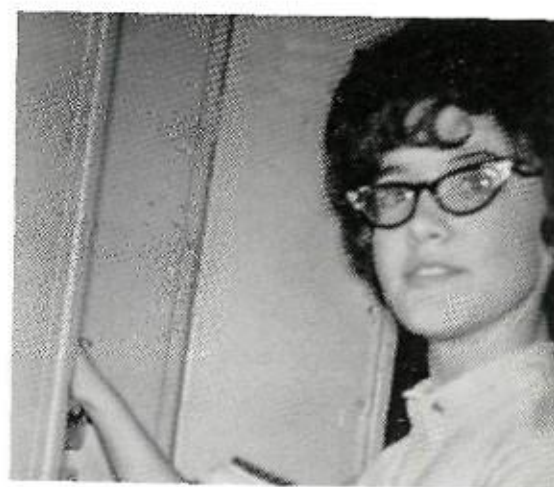

NO MISTAKING this happy line of students. It's the lunch line that gathers three times for three lunch shifts.

BALL GAMES ARE REPLAYED, tests retaken, and friendships formed on stairways, favorite gathering places before school.

THE FAMILIAR LOCKER SCENE takes place between classes.

STUDIES ARE IMPORTANT from the point of view of most students.

SOME EXERCISED . . .

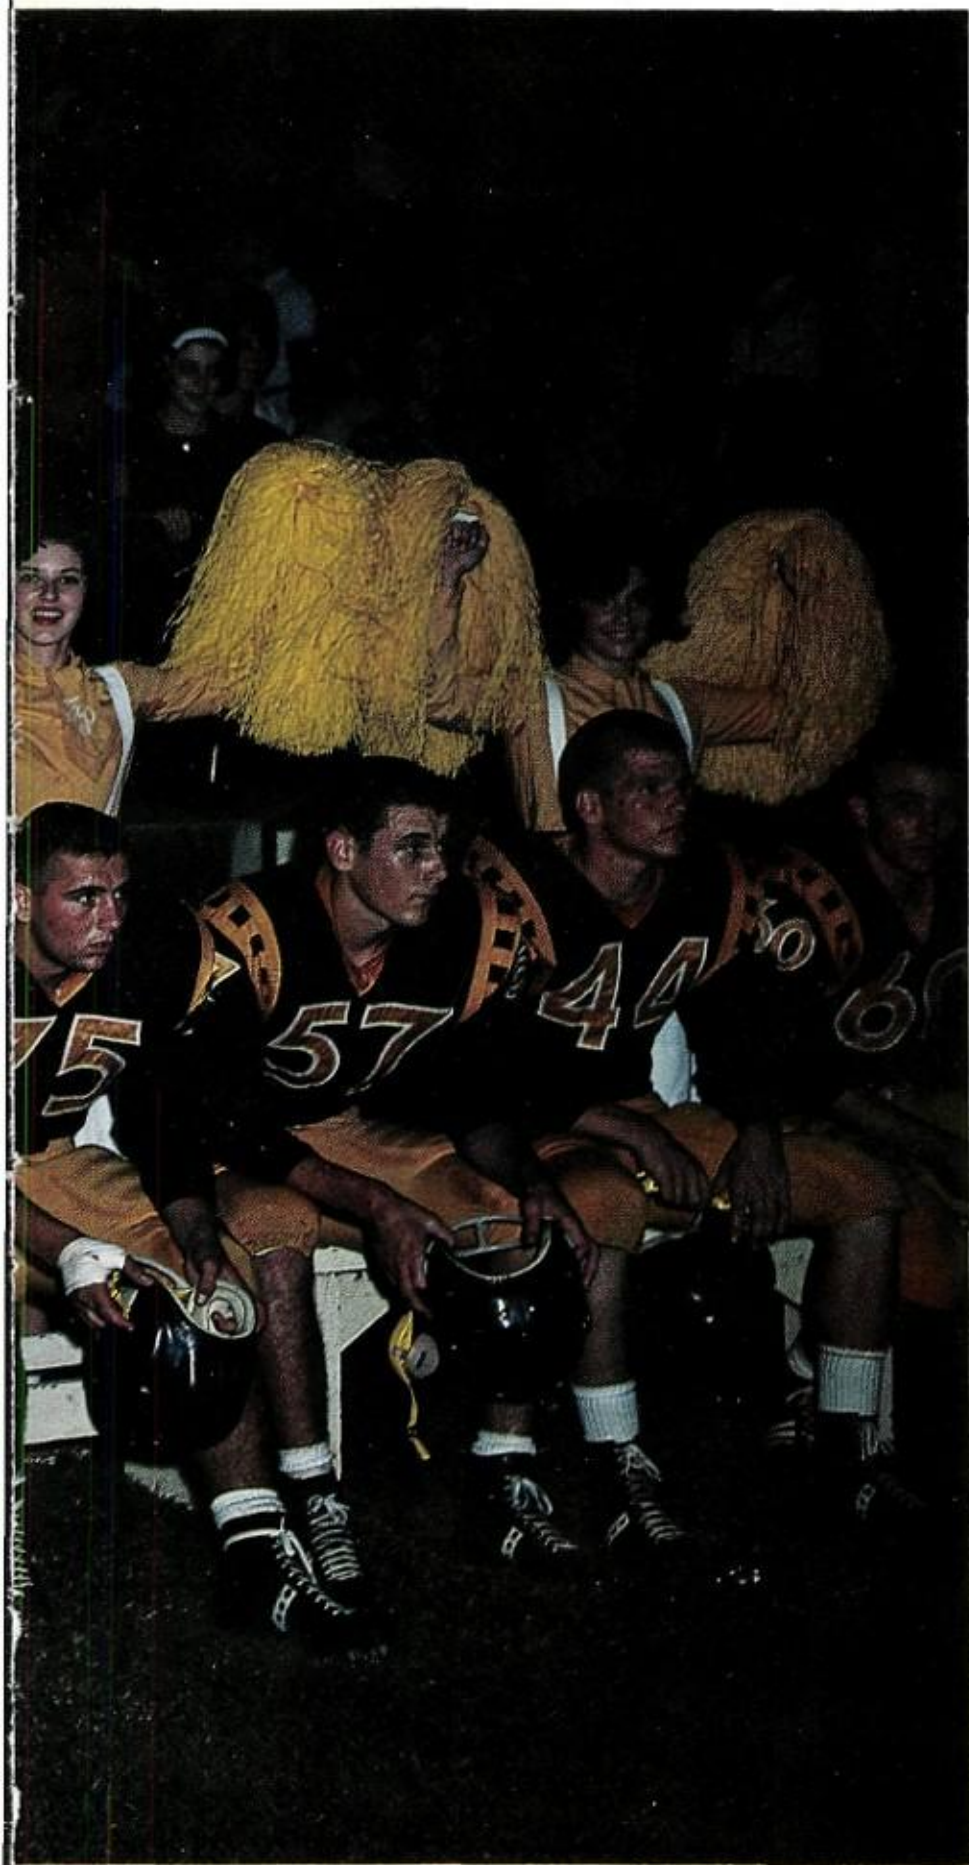

SOME PLAYED . . .

SOME MARCHED . . .

The life of a Fair Park student was a busy one throughout the year. We were not satisfied with just completing our daily schedule, but we participated in the many outside activities which are a part of Fair Park.

We were always on the move, going to the ball games and dances, staying for a club meeting or an important practice session, and striving for the betterment of the community. Active students were a common sight on and off the campus at Fair Park.

ON OUR WAY OFF the campus, we were still energetic, still anxious to get to the next place. The next place was sometimes home, sometimes a local hamburger stand, sometimes school again for an evening function.

Chris,

I have enjoyed being in Geometry with you this year. Best of lucks, alway.

AMERICAN HISTORY, past and present, became real with the maps, globes, and other materials available for our use.

Of Knowledge Gained in the Classroom

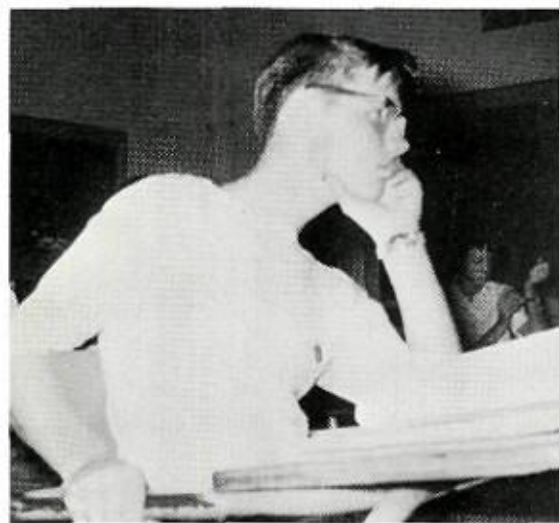

Although we were busy with many extracurricular activities throughout the year, our chief purpose was to obtain an education. With the advice of our teachers and the aid of excellent facilities, we increased our knowledge in many fields. Because of this friendship and these aids, studying was an enjoyable and not just an everyday routine.

The use of laboratory equipment, extra projects, maps, and modern books made our classes interesting. Even though the methods of study differed with each student, all recognized the need for an education. All of this, the preparation for the next class and probing the unknown, made up our academic life at Fair Park.

SOMETIMES WE DID THE INFORMING while others listened and learned.

REPORTS, THEMES, AND VERBS added to life at Fair Park fun, knowledge, success, and the joy of understanding and being understood in our communications.

MEANING CAME to everyday processes and experiences which had been a mystery until we learned reasons in chemistry.

WE LIKED WHAT WE SAW of Fair Park and its people and ways. Its assemblies found us appreciative listeners.

WE APPLAUDED the success of our classmates and encouraged them to make greater efforts. We championed those who tried.

Of Things We Observed Daily

"Actions speak louder than words!" We at Fair Park expressed ourselves openly in all phases of school life. Whether at work or play, there was an atmosphere of enjoyment. Things were made interesting, amusing, and educational at the same time.

It has been said that a picture is worth a thousand words. Fair Park may be thought of as a huge picture. During the year we were constantly influenced by our surroundings. Each portion of this picture told a different story. Some views were amusing, as the days the Pow Wow was sold, while others were more serious, such as the learning of some phenomena in the field of science.

WE ENTERED INTO EVERY ACTIVITY with enthusiasm. We gave the name "Fair Park Indians" meaning.

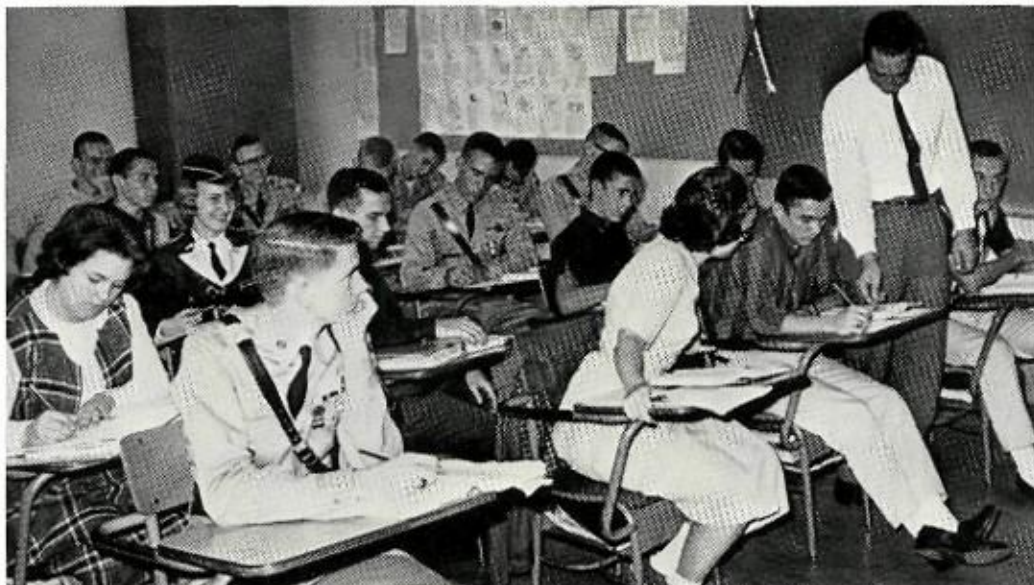

TO EVERY STUDENT was available additional information and entertainment in a vast array of books in the library.

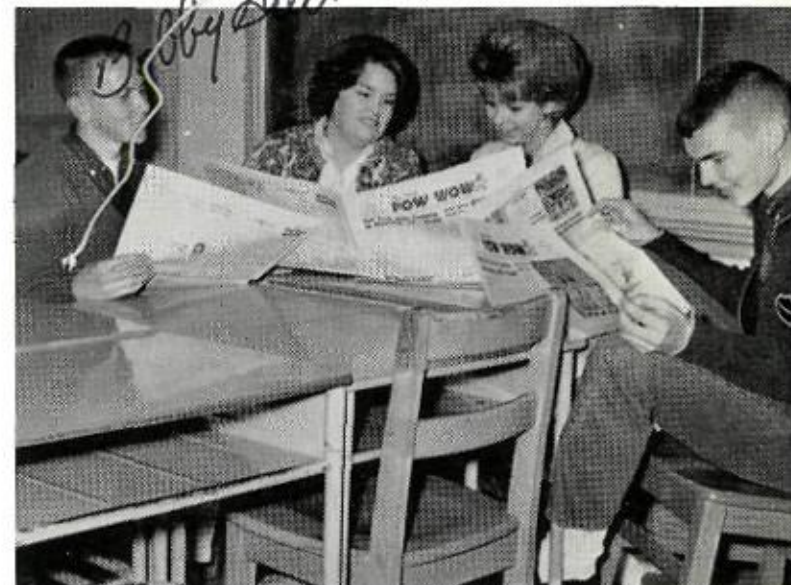

WE DID NOT HAVE TO GUESS what was meant in lectures and pages of the textbook. Learning aids and materials to illustrate the most intricate and involved processes were provided. What student could fail to be interested?

SERIOUS YET RELAXED, we enjoyed our classes, learned in them not only the subjects themselves, but the value of constant effort, honesty, and friendship.

POW WOW DAYS were big days. News made and written by and about students gave us a sense of having lived among a worthy group in an outstanding school.

STUDENT PARTICIPATION under the sponsorship of the Student Council made possible a large number of gift Christmas baskets. President Roy Eichler and Vice-President Gordon Raley perform the task of packing the boxes.

Of Participation in Activities

One good thing about a large school is the wide variety of activities offered. School activities made up an important part of life at Fair Park. No matter what a student's individual interest was, there was a place for him at Fair Park.

An active part in the governing body of the school, athletic participation, working on the school paper or yearbook, or helping in some community project—there was a need for all of these. Each student who performed the smallest task contributed to the biggest spirit a school can have.

SAFETY WAS ASSURED by members of the Safety Council who registered and checked the approximately three-hundred cars parked on and near the school campus each day.

THE BAND PLAYED, marched, studied, memorized, polished brass, cleaned instruments, shined shoes, and entertained all of us at games during halftime and in concerts at school. Students taking part in this group were justly proud of their membership.

COLORFUL COSTUMES set a brilliant scene for the study of early cultures by various organizations in the school. Latin club members participated in activities which proved to be of value to the school and community.

Of Service to School and Community

Fair Park is not just a high school in which a student may increase his knowledge by classroom work. It is a separate community where one may learn the key to existence in the world. What enables this community to exist? The answer is service, not from just our teachers, but the service of students. This word sounds as if it may mean work, but this is not true. Service is work rendered, for the good of all.

At Fair Park there were many opportunities to contribute to the growth and success of our community. Through organizations, which cover almost every individual interest, we were able to serve our school. We helped supply the needs of our fellow students, established ourselves as citizens by bringing honor to our school, and we contributed to the welfare of those outside the community. Regardless of how we served, we gained a step to success in the future.

FOOTBALL PROGRAMS don't just happen. Members of the staff sell ads, have them printed, and sell programs at games.

CURRICULAR ORGANIZATIONS are a medium of service and self-improvement. These members of the Spanish club sponsored projects in which members learned much of Mexico.

COMMUNITY SERVICE, the aim of Key Club members in selling tickets to a school function, is realized. By means of various projects they are able to raise money to help the less fortunate.

THE SCHOOL STORE is a convenient place at Fair Park. Students rely on its stock to fill school supply needs.

Administration and Faculty

The administration and faculty have done much for the students this year. They have made us aware of today's opportunities and tomorrow's challenge. They have helped us learn to face responsibilities. They have recognized our personal assets and helped us to use them.

By their keen interest and enthusiasm and diligence they have given us knowledge.

In teaching us to accept the challenge of tomorrow, we have known them not only as teachers, but as consultants, advisors, and friends. We have learned their enjoyments and have acknowledged their role in the community. We shall never forget these who have done so much to influence our lives. They will receive our praise for they have not only influenced our lives but they have shaped our futures.

To Our Principal We Want to Say

For your devotion and concern for our welfare, for your unceasing work in the functions of the school, for your pleasant temperament, for your willingness to give a second chance, for your ability to see the best in us, and for your capable leadership, we thank you.

Above all else, Mr. McKenzie, you are a person whom we all admire and respect. You have stood by the high standards set for our school and have done all possible as an administrator to keep them high. Our sincere gratitude goes to you for being what you are, a leader who guides us without offense—a man of admirable qualities.

Principal's Message to Students

Dear Students,

Another school year is coming to a close. Some of you are finishing your third year at Fair Park, some your second and some your first. Are you satisfied with the results of your work this school year?

To be sure, most of you can begin the summer with a good feeling of achievement and a feeling of anticipation for the next step. Yet you cannot afford to become smug and self-satisfied with what you have done up till now; when that happens, intellectual, moral and spiritual growth ceases. Take a moment as you review the events of the year portrayed in this new Sequoyah to summarize your personal achievements and see if you are satisfied with the work you are doing.

This is a good time to bring your educational aims to a focal point. Assess the past, plan for the future, and then do your best to reach your aims each day you come to school.

Fair Park is a great school with a great heritage and unlimited opportunities. It's up to you to keep this heritage and to pass it on to those who follow.

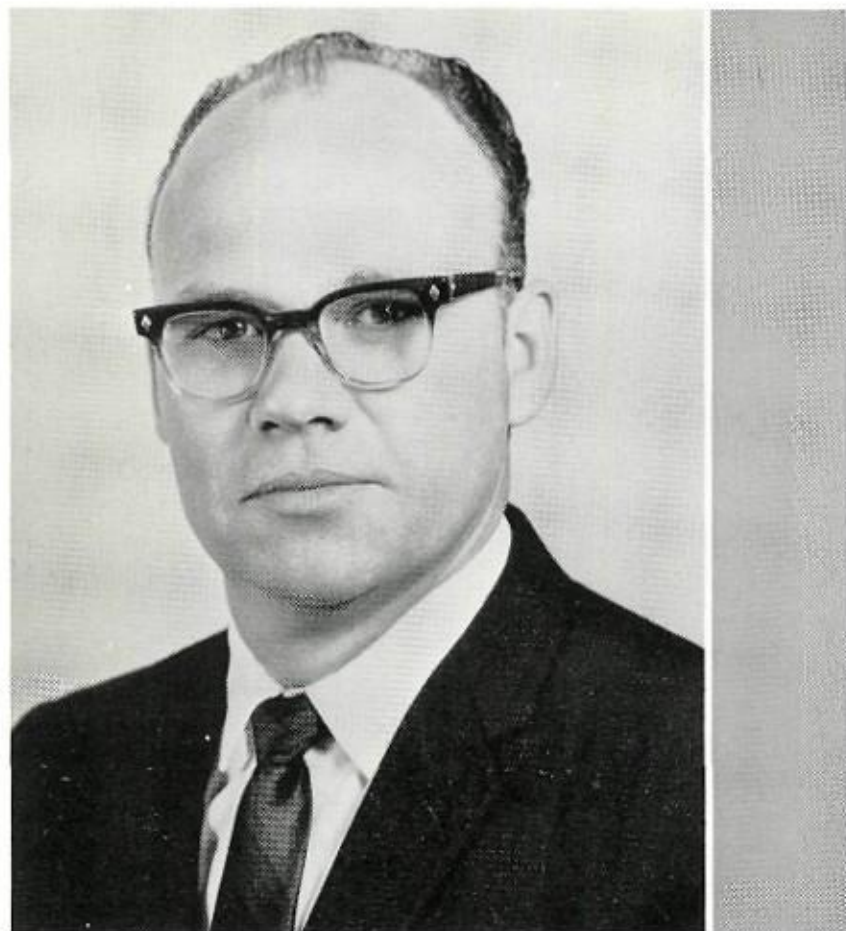

I wish for each of you success in the next school year and a prosperous future.

Sincerely,

Earl A. McKenzie

Assistant Principals Contribute to Well-Run School

Ours is a smoothly running school in which crises arise and are met with ease each day. Mr. Brantly, a calm, deliberate friend to the student, handles discipline, maintenance of the building, transportation, and attendance. He keeps the student body informed of important events and extracurricular meetings through the "Daily Bulletin."

Mrs. Murphy, with poise and charm, efficiently directs the program of instruction, in-service program for teachers, graduation, textbooks and materials, guidance, and scheduling of students.

Guidance Counselors' Help Always Available

Guidance services at Fair Park are designed to help the student become informed about himself, his preparation for the future, and the world of work through providing accurate and current information—thus enabling him to make plans and choices according to himself and to his environment.

A testing program consisting of achievement and mental maturity tests for the purpose of facilitating evaluation, education measurement, and diagnosis is administered to students during their three year stay in high school.

Curriculum

Curriculum at Fair Park is based on the philosophy that the years a pupil spends in school are to prepare him to take his place in a changing society.

Teachers strive to make pupils aware of the ideals of democracy and encourage them to accept responsibilities and to meet the obligations of an adult society. Skills in areas of learning which may lead to further educational training or into the business and industrial world are taught. Thus the school accepts its responsibility for developing each individual and for equipping him to utilize his potentialities.

GRAMMAR IS FUN Jimmy Purgerson discovers as he diagrams a sentence correctly. Diagramming is taught in grammar as an aid in understanding sentence structure.

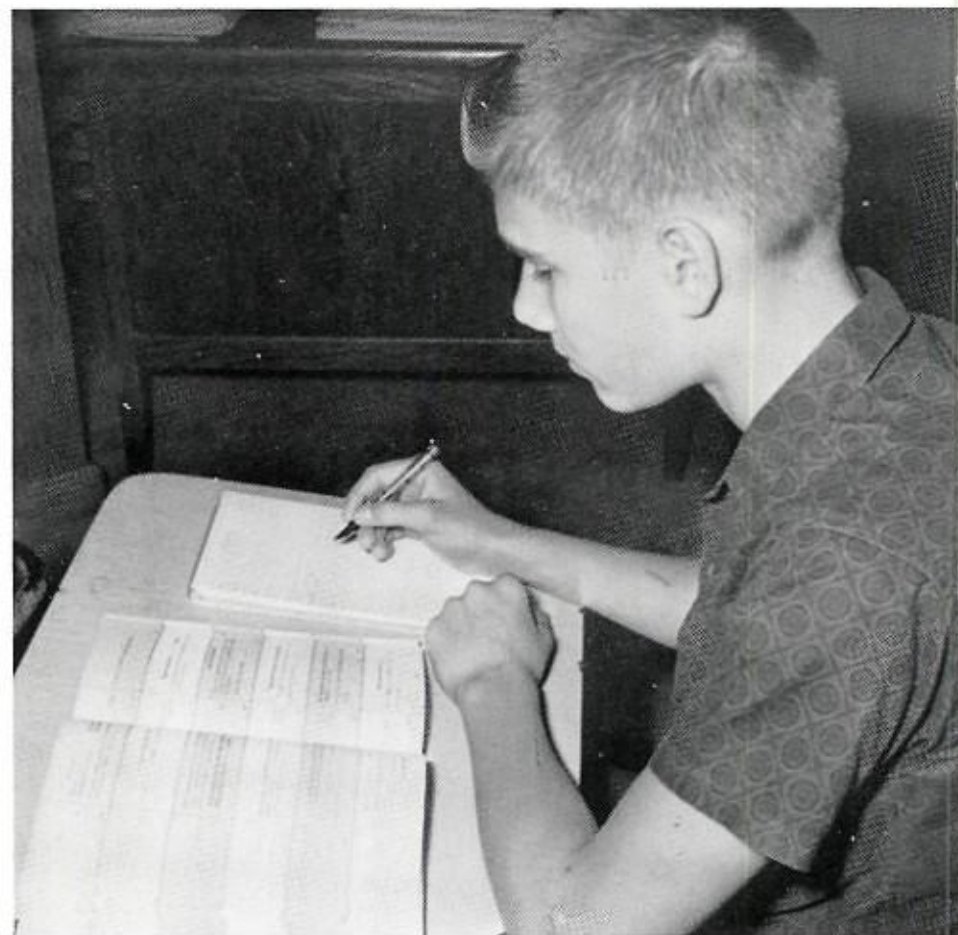

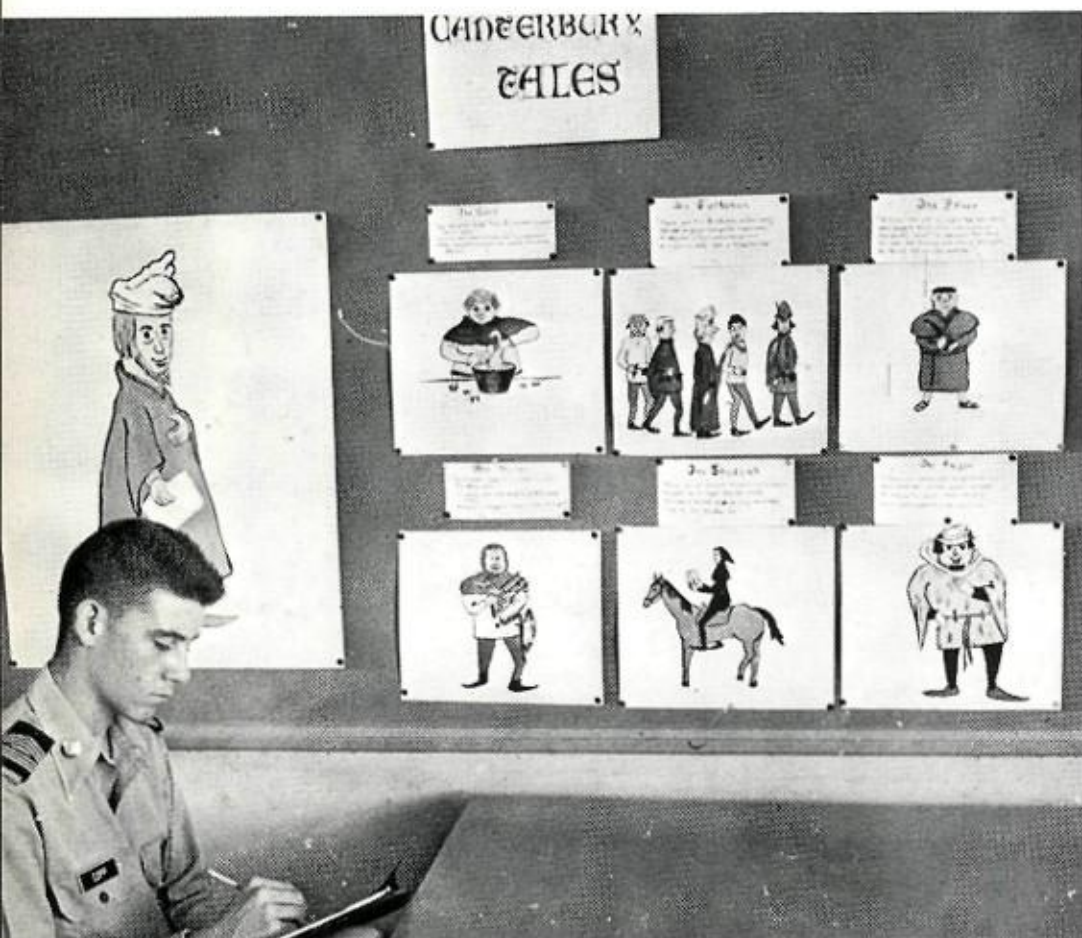

Four Units of English Are Required

Effective communication for effective living is the keynote of the four required courses in English. An enriched life is the result of pursuit of these courses. Each consists of the fundamentals of English usage and grammar. Each enhances the casual and future professional life of the students by stressing the importance of correct spelling, writing, and vocabulary in correspondence and conversation.

Creative expression is encouraged. Wide reading is made attractive. World, American, and English literature are explored in detail. There is an area of interest for every participant.

VIVIDLY PORTRAYED CHARACTERS from literature are illustrated on several posters by Jimmy Copp. An active interest in reading is developed in the study of the classics and contemporary literature.

PROGRAMMED LEARNING materials are used in some of the English classes. This, a recent development in educational methods, is a learning procedure in which the student answers a question and checks it for correctness immediately.

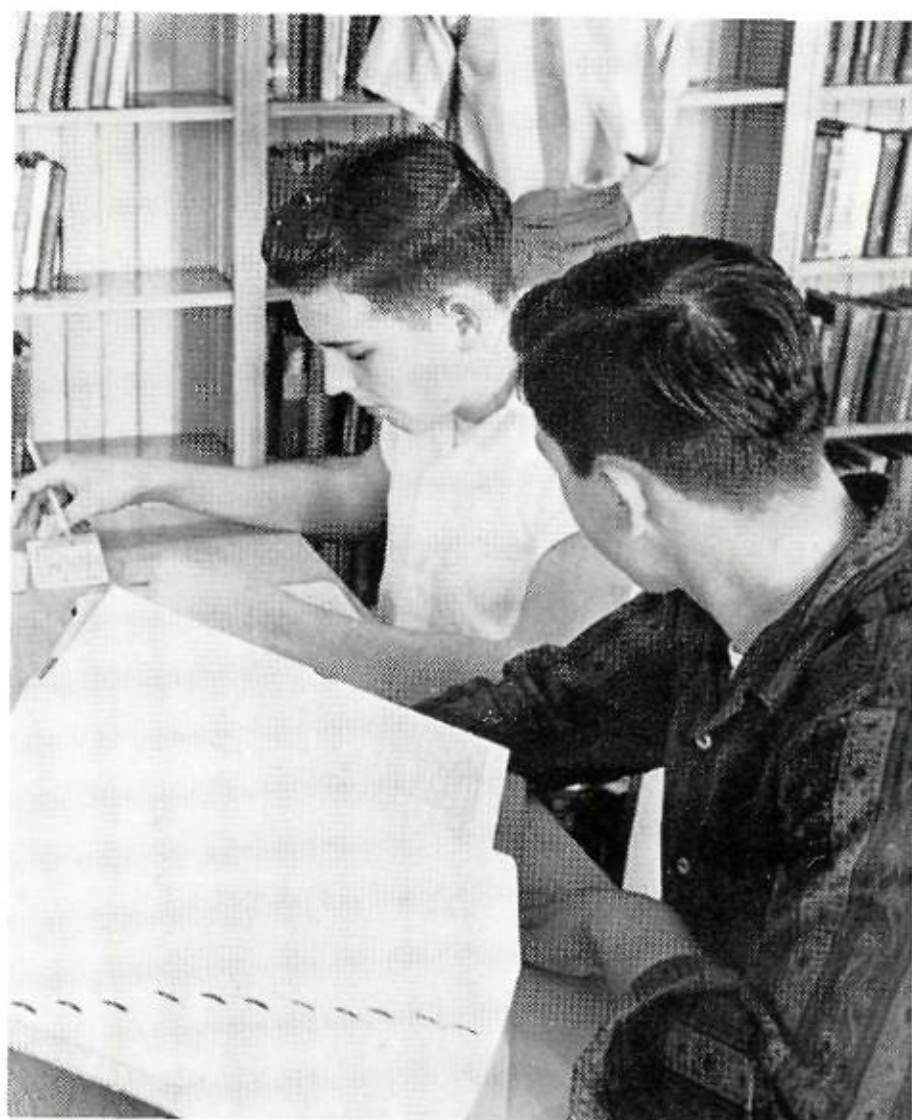

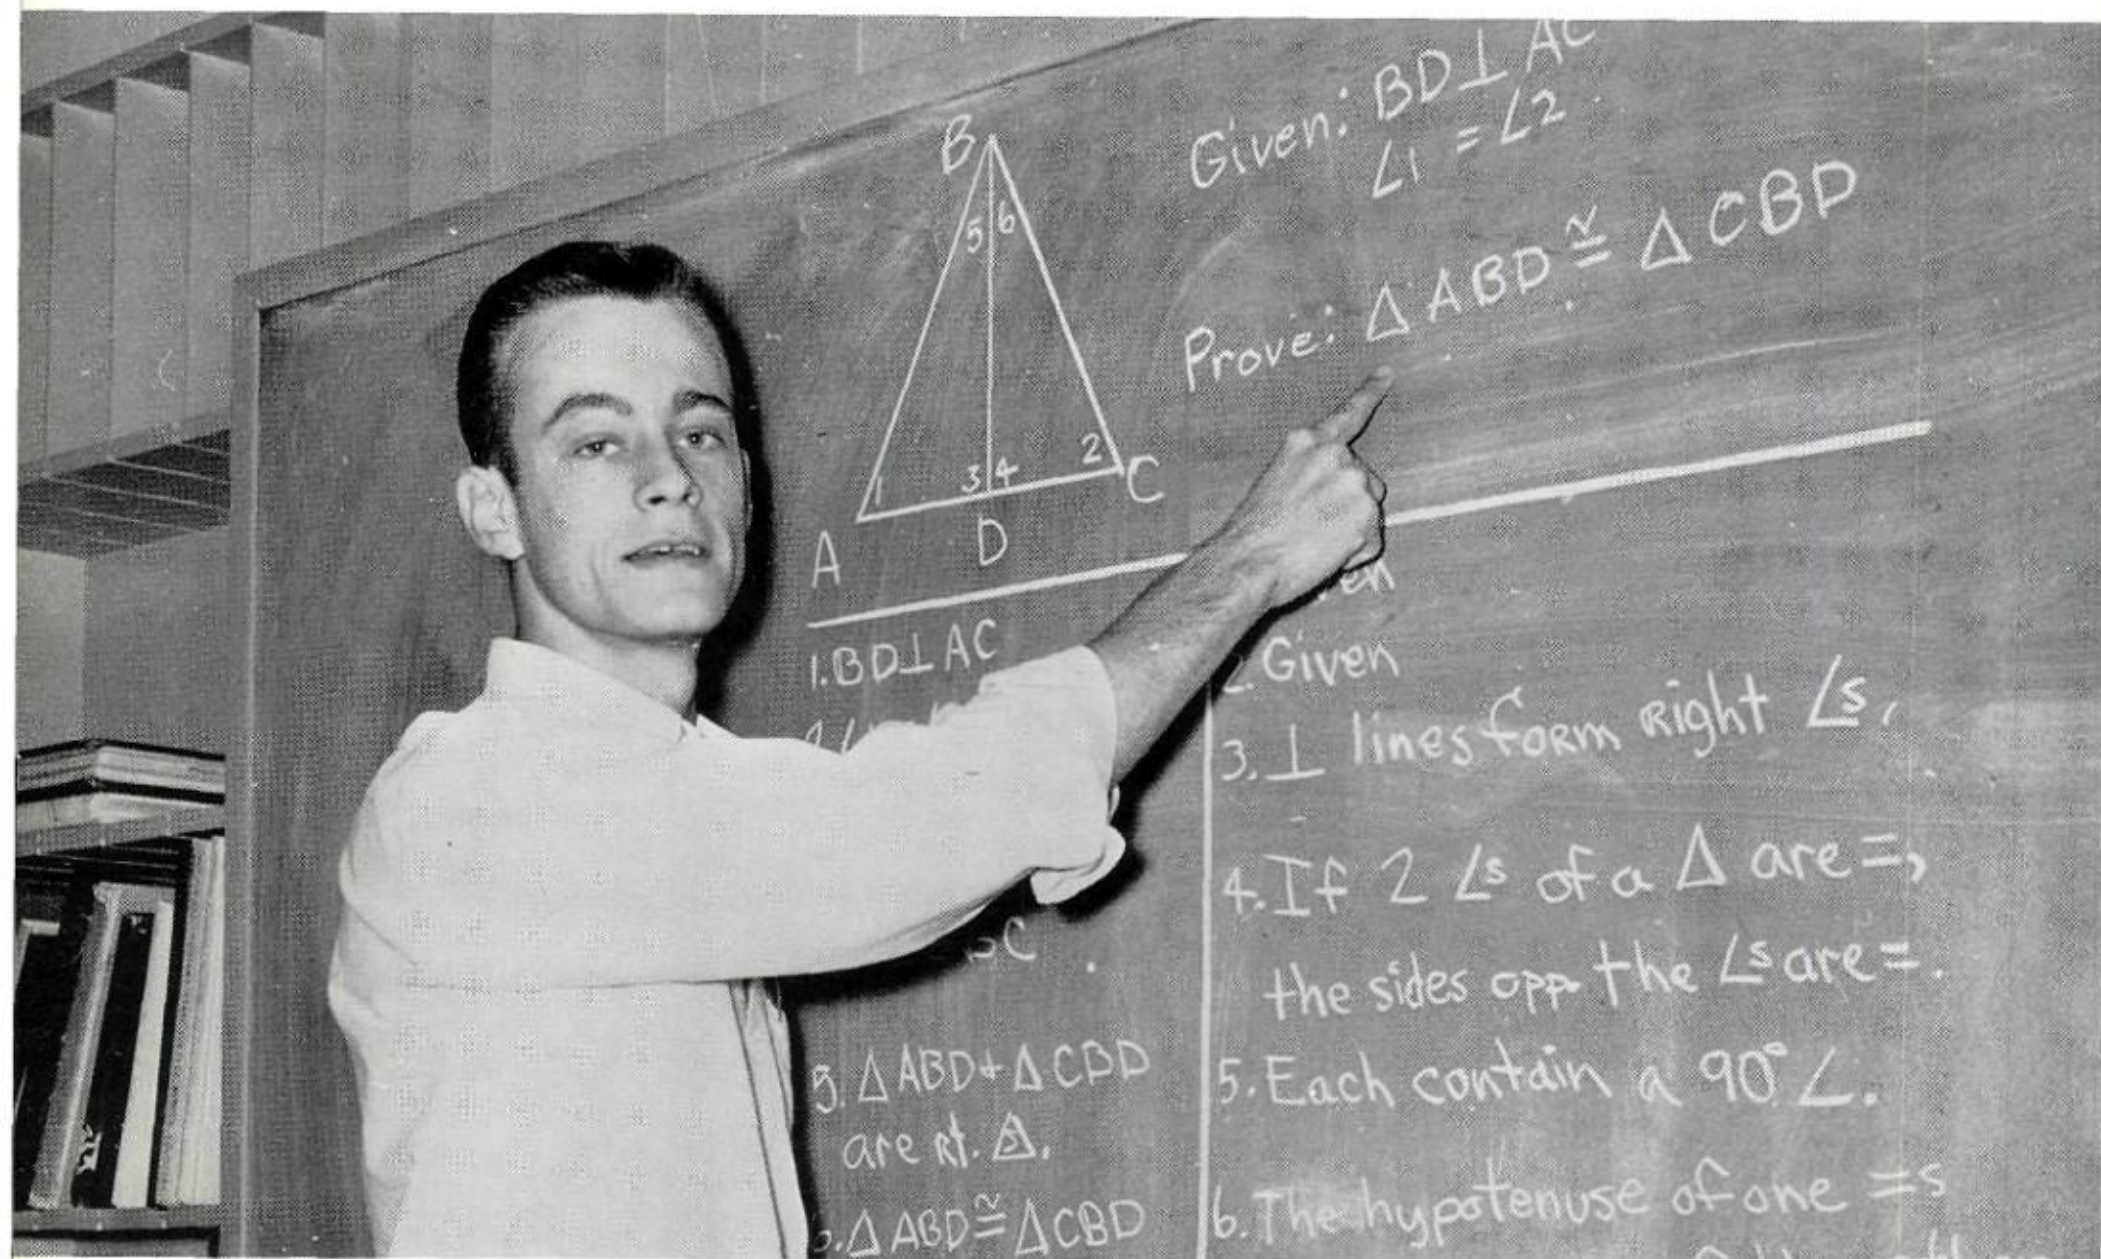

AMERICAN HISTORY describes our nation's history by relating the problems and accomplishments of the American people. Here, students are studying the Louisiana Purchase, a vital event in the history of the United States.

THE LIBRARY, VITAL PART of the curriculum in Fair Park, is used by students from social studies, English, and other classes to add to information presented in textbooks and lectures.

Social Studies for Active Citizens

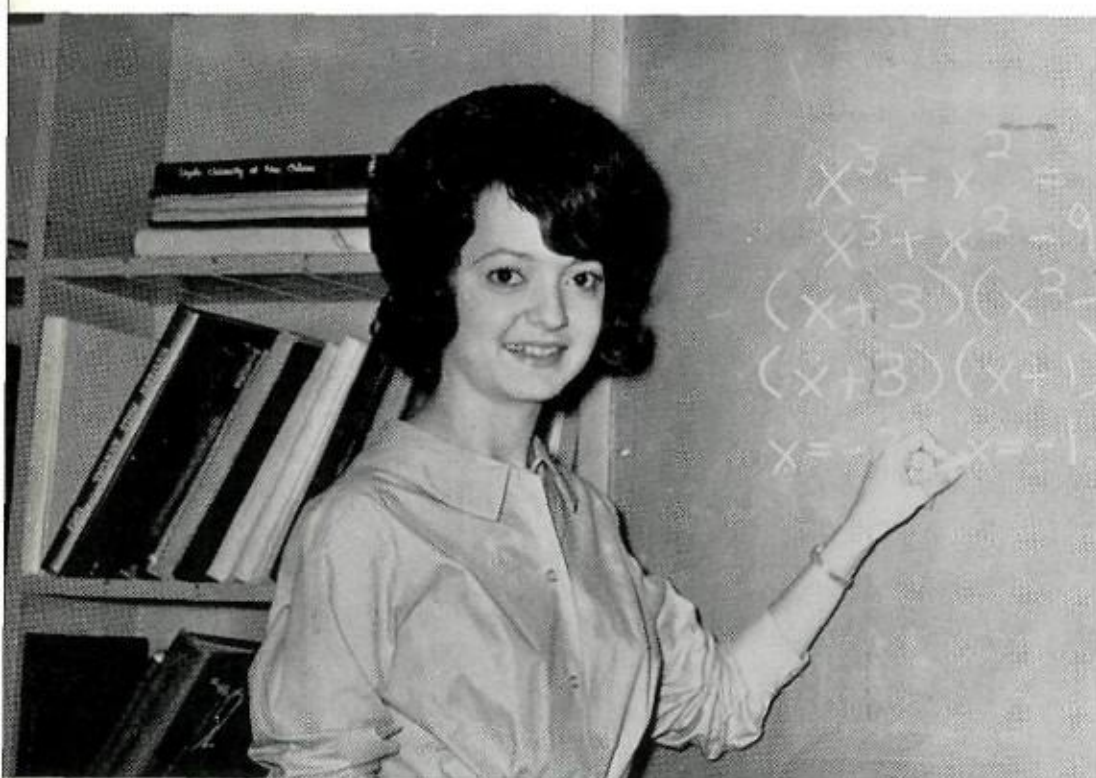

The value of active citizenship in a changing world is brought to vivid realization as students study civics, American history, world history, and economics. Government on the state, local, and national levels is studied in civics courses. World history seeks to retrace the experience of mankind, and American history surveys the nation's history—all in an effort to prepare students to live successfully in a society which must adjust itself to fluctuating conditions and to choose wisely their leaders and goals.

THE CONCLUSION! Russell Stanley explains that this is what he has proved in his geometric interpretation of congruent triangles, one of the many analytical proofs taught in plane geometry.

A QUADRATIC EQUATION is solved by Patricia Harris for the independent variables. This is one of the processes of high mathematics learned in the second year algebra course.

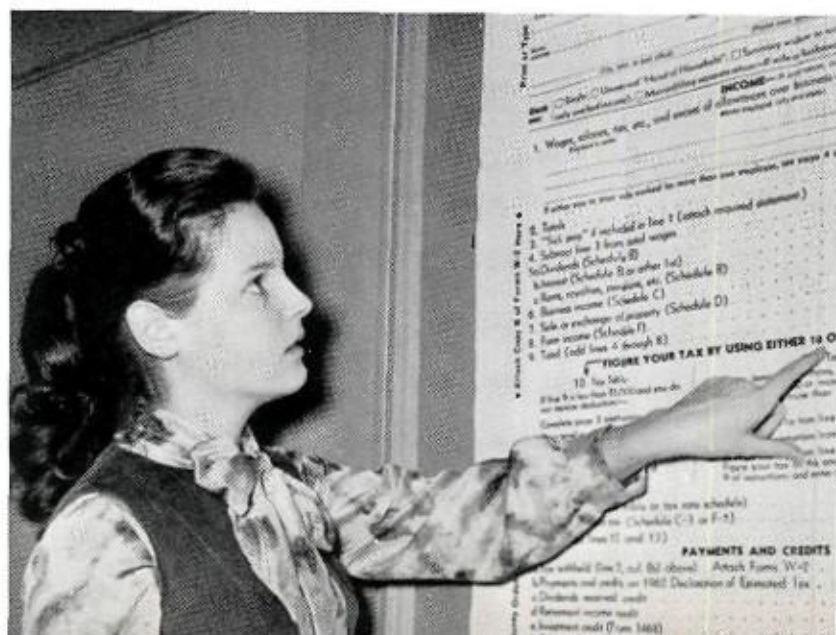

Mathematics Is Required

Opportunities offered by mathematics courses are limitless. Preparation for careers and college is assured. Those preparing for college enroll in algebra and plane geometry. Others, aiming for careers in the field of computation, enroll in elective subjects of advanced algebra, trigonometry, and solid geometry.

For those interested in the field of business and homemaking, business arithmetic and general mathematics are favorite subjects.

INCOME TAX RETURNS are a part of business arithmetic classes.

Sciences for All Students

A world of wonder at Fair Park is found in the biology rooms, the chemistry lab, and the physics classes. Biology students in a short year deal with plants, animals, and the human body.

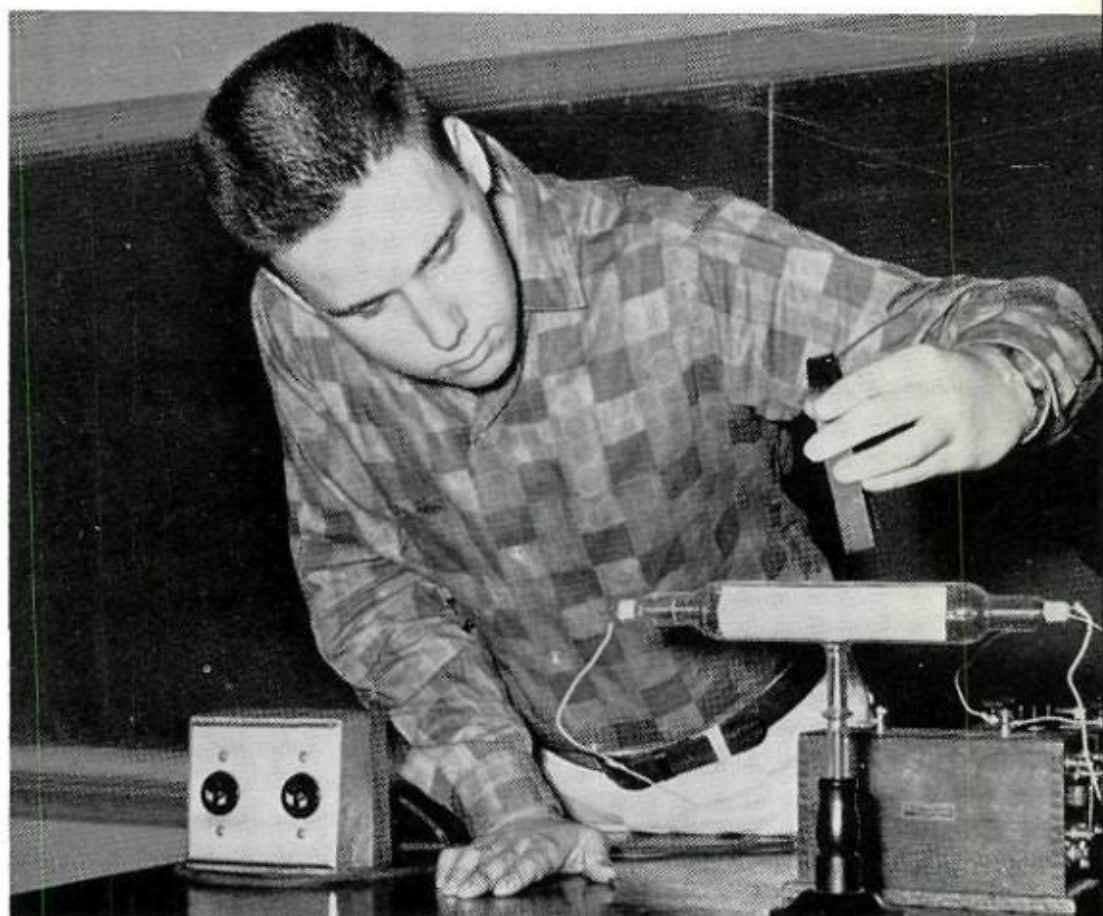

Dissection of animals, instead of evoking shudders, solves mysteries. The human body and its processes get renewed respect and admiration. Chemistry reveals the composition of substances to fascinated students. The fact that light, fluids, magnetism, and electricity behave according to laws is learned by surprised groups of students in physics.

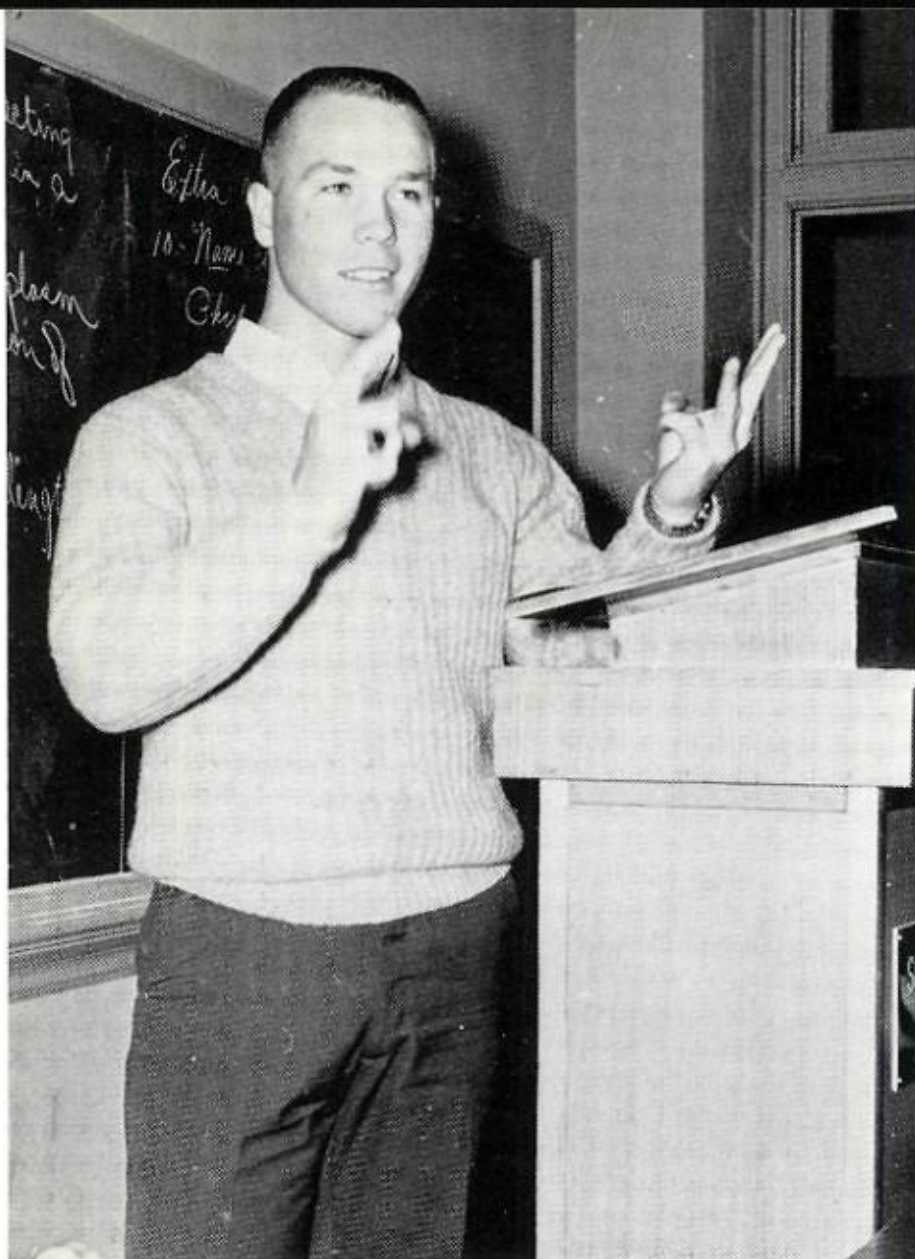

BUGS AREN'T SO BAD when they are studied in detail and the marvels of their structure and life are learned.

LIEBIG CONDENSER used in distilling water is checked by Linda Brock. This distillation apparatus is one of many ways students in chemistry classes discover the wonders of the world.

MAGNETIC PROPERTIES OF ELECTRONS and how electrons are affected by magnetic forces are demonstrated by Carl Dorsey using a cathode ray tube. Scientific phenomena become a permanent and interesting part of the education of physics students.

WITH APPROPRIATE GESTURES Johnny Landrem summarizes points just made in a debate. Debate is one of the refinements of the three speech courses taught at Fair Park.

Speech Is a Popular Elective

Training in the use of the body and voice, the techniques of various types of speeches, and the fundamentals of public speaking, including a unit on parliamentary law, are available in speech classes. Students find these abilities some of the most useful in school life as well as in plans for the future.

FOR FUTURE USE speech training is one of the most valuable courses in the curriculum. Rita Nallin speaks to her class on the subject of a civic project and convinces them.

Three Foreign Languages Offered

Foreign language, an entrance requirement of many colleges, has a large enrollment in Fair Park. Two years each of French, Spanish, and Latin are taught.

French is designed to teach the pupil the fundamentals of speaking, reading, and writing. Latin includes grammar, vocabulary, derivations and word study, and translations. Spanish is organized to teach vocabulary, conversation, translation, and grammar. During the year all language classes study the customs, habits, and culture of the people of these countries.

INTEREST IN SPANISH SPEAKING PEOPLE results in a variety of visual aids prepared by Carter Cummins and other students.

FRENCH IN THE CLASSROOM is the rule for these classes. Ann Benbow writes and translates a sentence for the class. It is evident that the course is an entertaining one for students.

A STYLE SHOW is an event of the Latin Club in which Lorene Jones and Carol Wall wear Roman costumes. Grammar, vocabulary, derivation and word study, and translations, and Roman life and culture are taught.

Many Choose Journalism

Juniors and seniors may enroll in journalism classes where news, feature, sports, and editorial writing are taught. Basic journalistic skills involving interviewing, editing, copy reading, proofreading, and principles of makeup are used by the students in working on the school newspaper, the Pow Wow.

PLANNING goes into the publishing of an issue of the Pow Wow. Trudy Gann, Gil Nash, and Penny Tucker "makeup" an issue.

AN ATTRACTIVE HOME is the aim of part of the instruction in home economics classes. Kathy Barnhill, Johnnette Watson, and Roberta Moore prepare Christmas decorations from inexpensive materials.

CREATIVITY IS ENCOURAGED in home and family living classes. Pam Bird applies a pastel spray to a project of toothpicks and styrofoam.

Home Economics Preparation for Gracious Living

Homemaking is extensively taught at Fair Park. Home and family living courses with many boys as well as girls enable students to entertain graciously, to plan homes and budget finances.

Home economics students are among the best dressed with their ability to sew. Cooking, meal planning and serving are all a part of these classes.

ALL THOSE GOOD AROMAS came from the ovens of the home economics classes—among the most pleasant classes in the curriculum.

Commercial Courses Solve Job Problem

Ready for a job? Commercial courses, typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, office practice, business English, and distributive education are the courses taken by those who are, and by many who plan to go to college. They prepare a good foundation for a college major in business.

Typewriting for personal as well as vocational purposes is stressed. Shorthand classes are filled with those preparing for secretarial positions after graduation. Office practice and bookkeeping courses furnish a substantial foundation for jobs in accounting and other departments.

THE BOOKS BALANCED for Martha Davis as she completed a practice set in bookkeeping. The use of adding machines and realistic business forms and experiences prepare these students for jobs.

DUPLICATING MACHINES and their operation are a part of commercial training at Fair Park. Ruth Cantly performs some work for the school and gains practical experience.

THE DICTAPHONE becomes a familiar and easily operated business machine in office practice class. Barbara Brantly is the operator.

PRACTICING FOR A CONCERT Kathy Weferling and Kathy Grubbs show concentration. Orchestra yields one credit and is offered on three levels; advanced, intermediate and beginning. Students in advanced orchestra are admitted by audition and play standard symphonic literature.

CHOIR CLASSES are always enjoyed by students. These groups are invited to perform for local civic groups often during the year.

Music Course Enrolment High

The students of Fair Park's music department have learned that music is much more than the scientific definition, "organized sound." The instrumental division—the intermediate, military, and concert bands and the intermediate and symphony orchestras, and the vocal division—the choirs and glee club, offer the student body a variety in program.

Through these organizations the pupil furthers his skill as a musician. Responsibility and discipline learned by participation in the group carry over into all phases of life.

Music, the students learn, is much more than just notes. Not only are performance and reading stressed, but also an appreciation in good music is developed. Standard repertoire is presented to bring the pupil into a close communion with various composers from different periods.

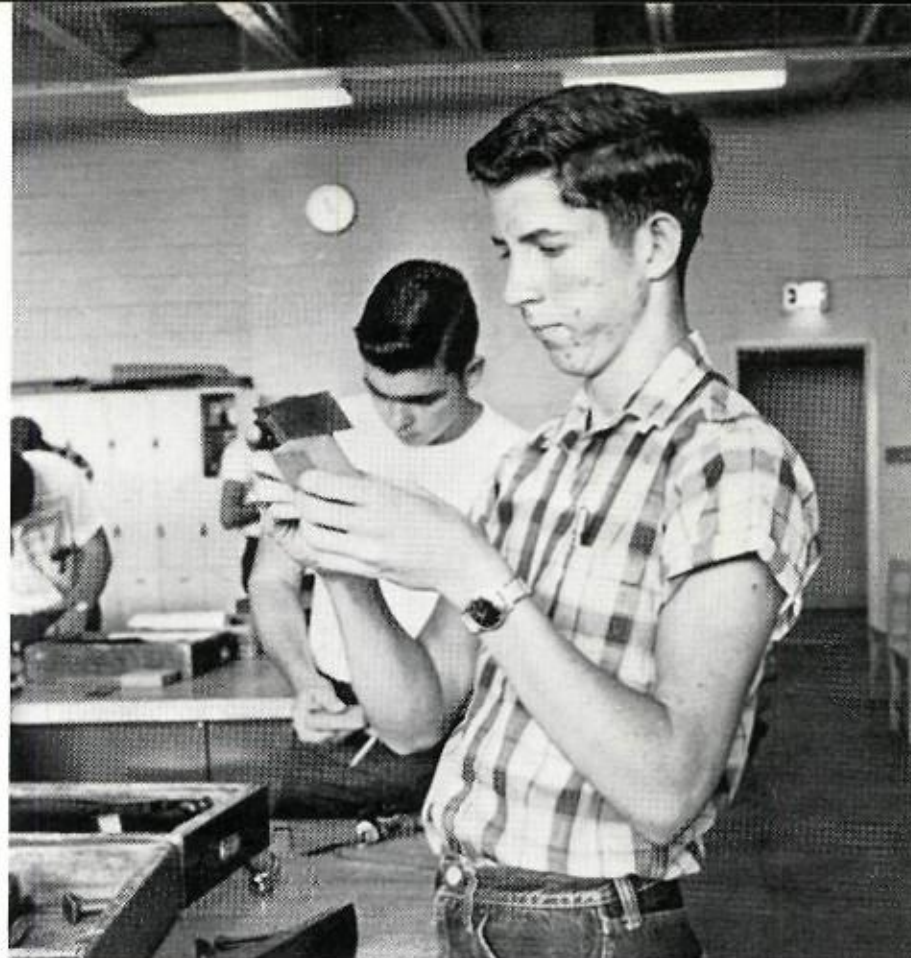

Varied Curriculum Meets Needs of All

A variety of elective courses in the area of art and industrial arts is available. Printing, two years of mechanical drawing, general metals and wood-working make possible any one of many vocations. Experience gained in these courses may be valuable in other courses or career pursuits.

For good physical condition and fine attitudes of sportsmanship, group calisthenics and games are a part of the day of Fair Park students. Football, baseball, basketball, track, tennis, and golf are played competitively with teams from other schools.

Operated by regular army personnel, the Junior R.O.T.C. program stresses habits of orderliness and precision, instills discipline and respect for constituted authority, and encourages a high sense of honor and deportment. Cadets gain experience in drill, weapons, marksmanship, and use of compass and maps.

MECHANICAL DRAWING instruction is extensive. Two courses are offered to boys and girls.

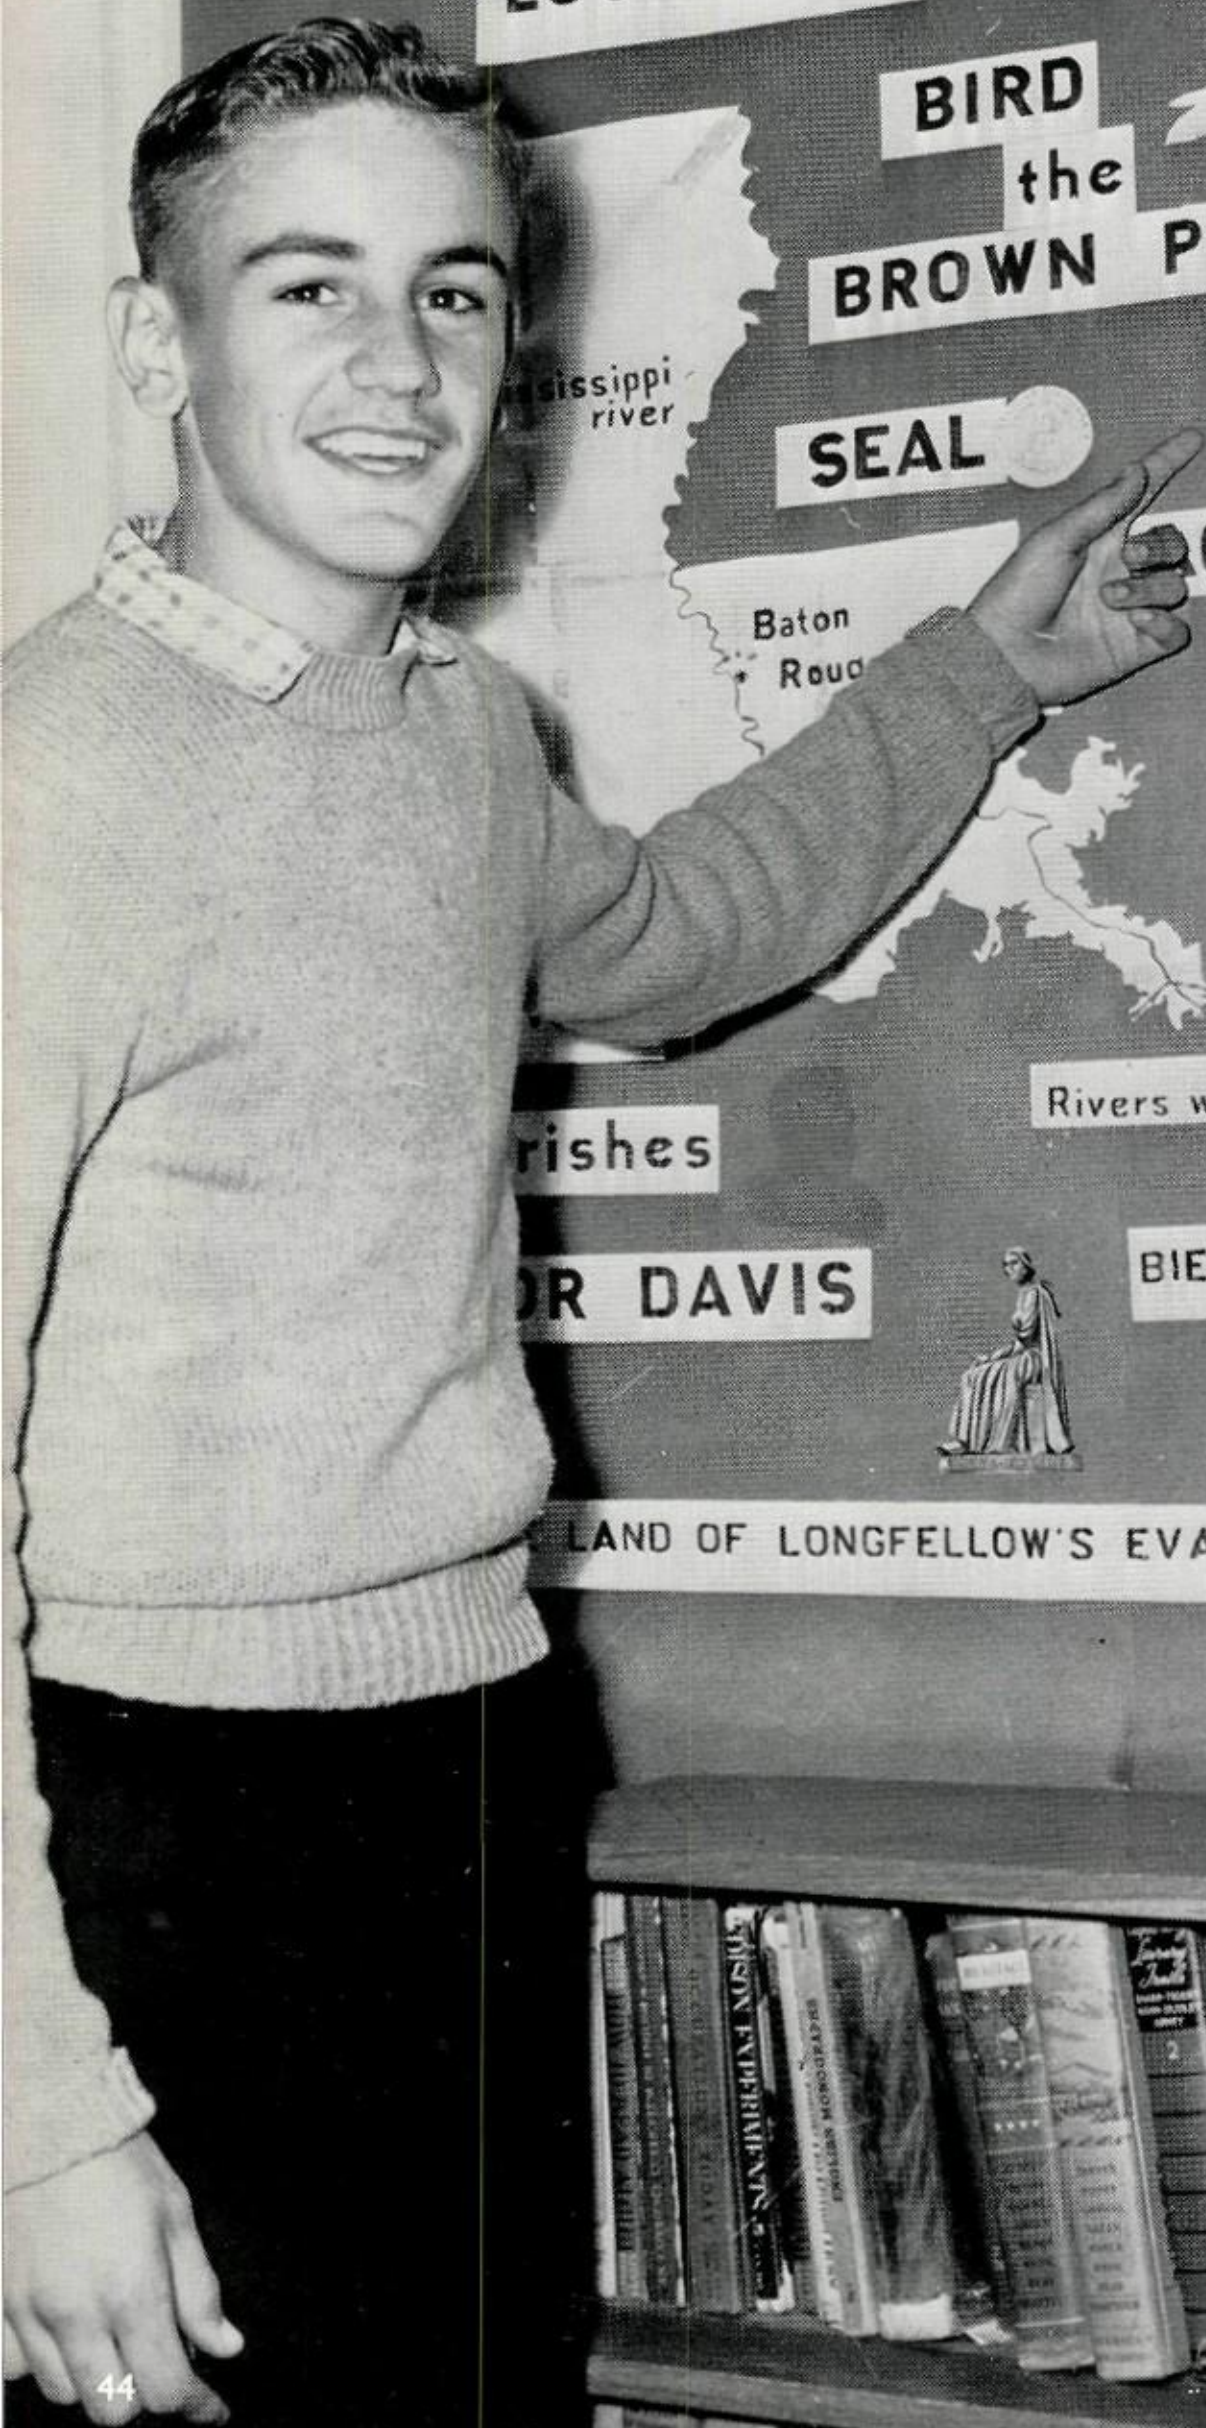

VALUE OF PRECISION is a principle learned in industrial arts classes. James Harkness measures accurately work being completed in woodworking class.

GRAPHIC ARTS class members learn the different methods of printing and type setting. The mastery of this skill often leads to jobs.

A SNAPPY SALUTE demonstrates the attitude of respect learned in R.O.T.C. This, with leadership and preparation for future military security of the nation, is a part of the military program.

Classes

A school is just as good as the students who inhabit its halls. The students who are in Fair Park High School, comprise the attitudes and ideals set forth by the school. Although they are divided by classification, they are united by customs of Fair Park and the "Indian" way of life. The seniors, who have become experienced in the triumphs and defeats of life, have long recognized this common bond and now look to the future with a better understanding of friendship and unity. The juniors, who now realize their place as Fair-Parkers, enjoy this unification and strive for success as "Indians." The sophomores, confused at first but soon acquainted, search for a way to become a part of this life.

Senior Class — 1964

A hobo day, valentine candy sale, and a hoot-enanny were among the money-raising projects sponsored by the class to finance Senior Week. During this special week, seniors were the center of attention and were provided with parties and other planned activities.

With the memory of these activities and other exciting events, the seniors leave Fair Park and look forward to the future. They, as experienced Indians, leave their positions as leaders to the oncoming students.

Seniors have well learned the tricks of existing at Fair Park. Here, Mary Levasseur makes a quick change of shoes before her next class.

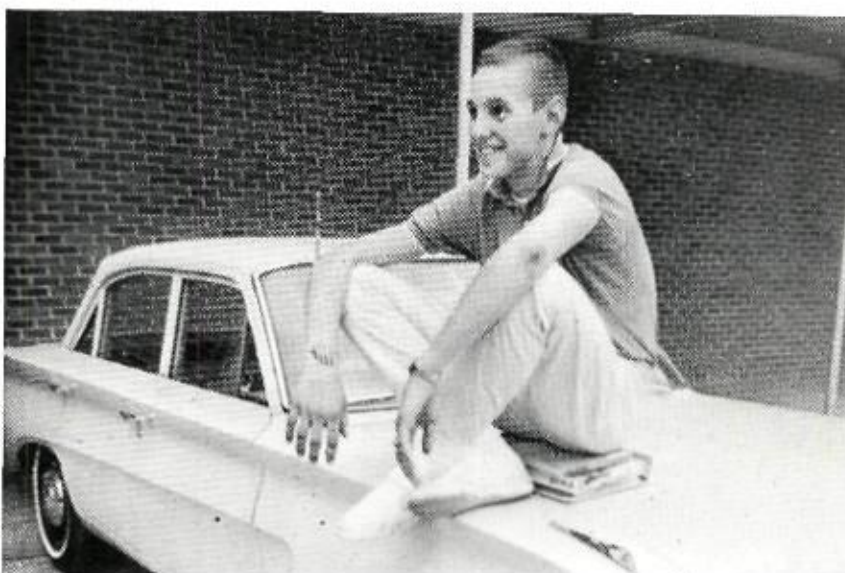

Seniors Lead Interesting Lives

"It must be here somewhere," says Trudy Gann as she searches for her homework in this unusual locker.

Throughout the years Seniors were helpful in many ways. Sherry King demonstrates this aid by assisting in the office.

Mike Grady uses his books to achieve a favorite pastime of Seniors.

Bobby Green, Allen Perkins, and Dwanna McInnis put the finishing touches on the Pow Wow's wreath, one of many ways Seniors displayed the Christmas spirit.

Junior Class — 1964

As middle men on the totem pole, juniors refused to be mediocre in showing their enthusiasm for school activities this year. They began preparation for the future by taking scholastic achievement tests, attending college conferences, and selecting the courses to round out their high school program.

Expectations for the oncoming year as leaders of Fair Park leave with the juniors as the summer vacation approaches.

After the first few weeks of adjustments the sophomores got in full swing of Fair Park life. Their activities began with the elections of Student Council senators and Homecoming maids. These constituted their first taste of the Fair Park democratic system. Other traditional Fair Park elections including class officers, beauties, favorites, and cheerleaders helped to install the sophomores after a successful year as newcomers. Now they are officially accepted as full-fledged Indians.

Showboat Is Setting for Mardi Gras

Reigning over the 1964 Mardi Gras festivities were Queen Sharon Friday and King Lynk Carpenter. An old-fashioned showboat adorned with sprays of flowers made the setting for the royal court and carried the theme for the evening.

Hosted by Gordon Raley, the program proceeded in grand style. Heralding the approach of the ladies were Kerlin Butchee, Mike Stanley, and Byron Park. Arrayed in a gown of yellow, pink, or blue, each lady of the court received her moments in the spotlight escorted by her lord, before the presentation of the queen. Making her entrance in the traditionally white gown and royal purple robe, Queen Sharon mounted the stairs to the stage and was crowned by King Lynk. Command performances were then given by a long list of talented Fair Parkers.

After the entertainment, a royal waltz was danced by the members of the court. The departure of the regal group climaxed a beautiful evening.

HONORS

Featuring Fair Park Students

Throughout the year there have been students who have earned recognition for outstanding achievement and for consistently commendable behavior. By working beyond regular assignments they have brought honor to the school and to the community. As a result of this citizenship and service these students have been awarded membership in the school chapter of the National Honor Society, selected as representatives for Pelican State, and honored by local civic groups.

Carolyn Easley and Wade Dorman achieved rank of finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Test.

Lynne Gregory was named "Good Citizen of the Year" by the Pelican Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution. Lynne was tested on her knowledge of civics and American history. She has an opportunity to win a scholarship to the college of her choice.

Gordon Raley, Mary LeVasseur, Mary Ann Rose, and Lynne Gregory were nominees for Youth Achievement Awards presented by the Fourth District of Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs. Choice of nominees is based on scholastic ability, extra-curricular activities, church activities, and religious services.

Virginia Schattner received an award for outstanding achievement in the area of American history by the Shreveport Chapter of D.A.R.

Thomas Lloyd received an "Americanism" award from the Sertoma Club as an outstanding student of American history. Picture not available.

Trudy Gann and Robert Peters were awarded the annual "Pat-Em On-the-Back" award by the Optimist Club.

National Honor Society

The highest honor one may achieve during his stay in high school is membership in the National Honor Society. This honor is bestowed upon juniors and seniors who display outstanding traits of character, scholarship, leadership and service. Candidates are chosen first because of the scholastic average of "B." Teachers recommend on the basis of service, leadership, and character. Membership in an organization does not necessarily secure membership in the National Honor Society. To become a member one must serve his club, his school, and his fellow students and must be active in at least two areas at Fair Park.

One's character is revealed through self-discipline and reputation. Scholarship is molded every day in class and at home. Leadership abilities distinguish a leader from a follower. Service to school, home, and community completes the description of a National Honor Society member.

The National Honor Society is not as much a service organization as are other clubs, but it is a symbol of high achievement. Honor Society members monitor for special tests, act as ushers for the Fair Park baccalaureate, and carry diplomas for graduation.

Mrs. Ruth Johns is faculty sponsor for this society. She is assisted by Miss Ernestine Johnson and Mr. Lewis Day.

Pelican Staters Study Government

During the last part of August, sixteen Fair Park seniors represented Fair Park at the 1963 Pelican State. A week filled with intense study of city, parish and state government was scheduled for the delegates. One of the delegates, Marie Nichols, was elected to one of the eleven state offices as state custodian of voting machines at Girls State. The main purpose of Pelican State, sponsored by the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary, is to teach Louisiana's future leaders the proper procedures of government.

Organizations

Through the many organizations one may not only further his individual interest but in doing so he renders a service to the school. Students may participate in the service groups for the improvement of the school, the journalistic phases or publications where a record of the events throughout the year are published, the various cultural groups who, while performing a service, develop in more specific phases of life, and the musical field, another group of culture. No matter which organization one may choose, the principles of citizenship are built through active participation in the organization.

PUBLICATIONS

by
Fair Park Students

Publications work is an important phase of life at Fair Park. By the combined efforts of staff members the many events throughout the year are recorded and therefore remembered in years to come. Members of the different staffs not only perform a service to the school, but they prepare themselves for a possible career in this field. Publications staffs are comprised of three groups: the Pow-Wow editorial and ad staffs, who work together to record the events biweekly; the Sequoyah editorial, circulation, and ad staffs, who compile a yearbook containing the year's happenings; the Football program staff who publish a program for all football games.

Quill and Scroll Honors Journalists

An international honor society with membership open to those in the field of publications whose performance meets its high standards, Quill and Scroll offers recognition to students. Eligibility to this society is achieved by some outstanding accomplishment in either the editorial, circulation, or advertising staffs at Fair Park. This honor is reserved for Juniors or Seniors who have at least a "B" average. After becoming eligible prospective members must be first recommended by the committee governing publications at Fair Park and then approved by the principal and by the secretary-treasurer of the Quill and Scroll.

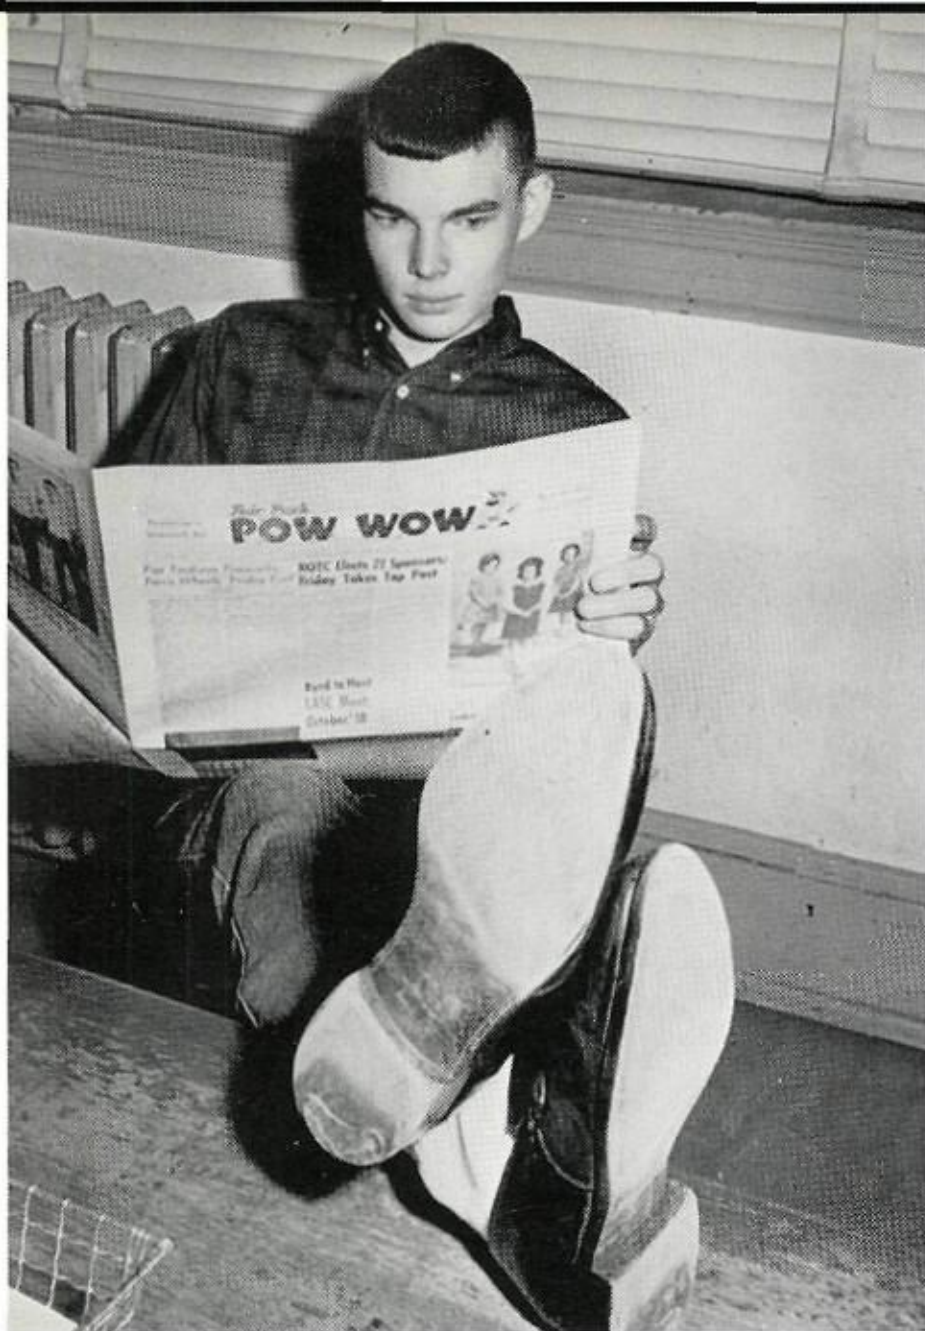

The E. H. Herron Chapter of Quill and Scroll was organized in 1959. Miss Delane Smith is the current faculty sponsor for the group. Through this society high school journalists are able to display their writing ability by participating in various national contests. The results of these contests may lead to a scholarship or a future job with some newspaper or publishing agency.

Officers Barbara Bracken, Vice-President; Trudy Gann, Secretary; Sonny Moon, President; and Penny Tucker, Treasurer; plan next meeting of Quill and Scroll.

Propped up, rared back and looking over another outstanding publication of the school paper, the POW WOW, is the 1963-1964 Editor-in-Chief, Allen Perkins, as he checks over another story.

Tabulating latest figures in the world of Fair Park athletics is POW WOW Sports Editor Gil Nash, at his trusty adding machine.

Pow Wow Keeps Pace by Making Changes

An increased school paper this year has made it necessary for the Pow Wow to make some sizable changes to keep pace with its growing needs. Last year's thirteen editors are now twenty-three and its forty-three reporters are now forty-nine.

For the first time the Pow Wow has taken the form of a bi-weekly publication. The page size has been increased and the paper usually consists of four or six pages. Other firsts included colored papers and contests for the readers. Special issues were prepared for fair time, Halloween, and Christmas, and a special dedicatory edition in memory of the late President.

Representatives of the staff attended the Louisiana State Press Association Convention at Baton Rouge. In competition honors were received in the sports and news fields.

In the All-American Critical Service for 1963 the Pow Wow received a first place honor rating.

Miss DeLane Smith, who also serves as journalism teacher, is the Pow Wow's advisor.

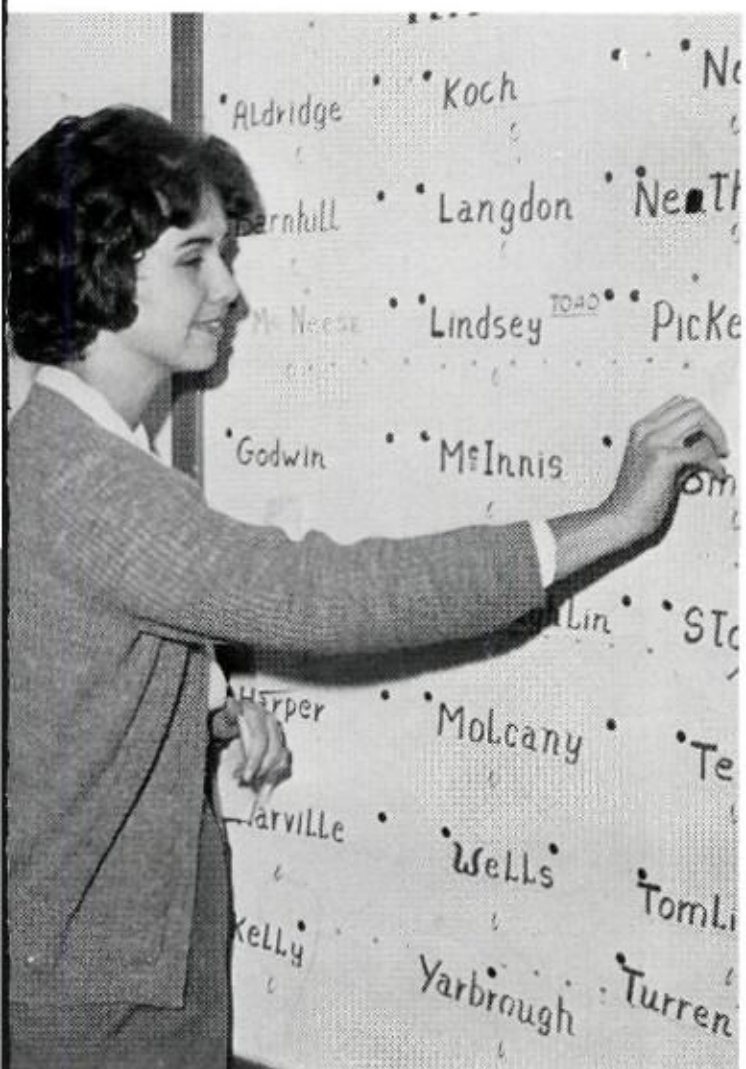

Diligently counting the toothpicks on the POW WOW Christmas tree is Feature Editor Penny Tucker who makes an account of the contests.

Assistant Editor, Trudy Gann, carries out a portion of her responsibilities by placing assignments on the hooks so the reporters can receive their duties of the issue.

Lynne Gregory, News Editor, proves the old journalistic maxim that If a dog bites a man it is not news but if a man bites a dog, that's news.

Charlotte Davis, one of the Pow Wow's picture editors, captures a shot of Lynk Carpenter, sales manager, Sandra Ritch, picture editor, Marilyn Sykes, Exchange Editor, as they search for new ideas for future issues of the Pow Wow.

Busily typing stories for our next issue of the Pow Wow are, Copy Editors Sherry King, Michele Aldridge, Linda LaFitte and Marla Greene while other editors Tam McLaughlin, Club Editor, Karen Koch, Music Editor, Dianne Neely, Secretary to the Staff, and Bobby Green, Military Editor, proofread over their shoulder.

High School Paper Advertising Medium

Beginning their work before the school year starts, the Pow Wow Ad Staff solicits and types ads, types statements, and keeps records of moneys collected. Advertising manager, Rheta Lee, and business manager, Charlotte Whitcomb, gained their positions by selling the greatest number of ads.

The first month of school is busiest for this staff sponsored by Mrs. Pearl Dalton. The forty members of this year's staff must have a "C" average, a nice personality, and good salesmanship qualities. The sophomore ad staff members are selected from the various junior high schools by being recommended by former members of the Staff.

Editor-in-Chief Sonny Moon checks over layouts for an important deadline, one of the duties performed in directing the work of the 1964 Sequoyah staff.

Sequoyah Compiled by Editorial Staff

Preparation for the 1964 Sequoyah began in the summer and continued throughout the year so that the events you will want to remember could be recorded. With the aid of the faculty sponsor, Miss Sammie Banks, the 1964 Sequoyah staff, consisting of editors for each section of the book, worked diligently to publish a yearbook that we hope will be even better than the previous Sequoyahs.

We of the yearbook staff hope that the 1964 Sequoyah will portray the year's events vividly and bring back memories and moments of amusement in the years to come. To fulfill this hope the staff tried to compose a yearbook which would be an accurate and interesting account of the year's happenings. Thus a memory book of the students by the students is presented to you.

Steve McDonald, the Class Editor, worked all year long to try to make this year's class section the best.

Editor-in-chief Sonny Moon and faculty sponsor Miss Sammie Banks discuss preparations for the 1964 Sequoyah with a representative of the Taylor Publishing Company in Dallas.

As Military Editor Tommy Walters planned the pictures and copy for the military pages.

As Faculty Editor, Marie Dillard was responsible for compiling and typing all information concerning the faculty and administration.

Sports Editor, Talmage Vance, kept a record of the games in order to bring out the important parts.

Organizations Editor, Alice Godwin, works on a club layout. Guiding the coverage of all school organizations for the Sequoyah is a major part of the responsibility of this position.

Imaginative layouts and witty captions are two essential elements for an attractive feature section. Feature Editor, Ann Benbow, smiles as she plans a layout.

Alice Godwin and Ann Benbow puzzle over ideas concerning layouts for the feature section of the 1964 Sequoyah.

Members of the 1964 Sequoyah staff combine their ideas as they plan the introductory section of the book.

Staff photographer Bill Chandler was responsible for seeing that all candid snapshots needed were taken and developed in time for each deadline.

Staff members Tommy Walters and Marie Dillard study layouts from a previous Sequoyah.

Bill Chandler and Sonny Moon discuss last minute arrangements for the picture schedule.

After collecting from regular room assignments, Linda Duncan and Mary Lanson try to balance the collection for the day. As each teacher deposits receipts with the student collector, a form is signed indicating the total deposited. The total collection must tally with the total recorded by teachers.

Gayle Feibel and Jenice Reyenga report to collect the receipts for yearbooks from one of their regularly assigned teachers, Mrs. Kopecky. One of the most important personal traits of a member of the Sequoyah Circulation Staff is the ability to work harmoniously with teachers and students. The girls must interrupt teachers' classes that are already in progress. It is necessary for the girls to be able to do this as quietly as possible and to work closely with the teacher in order not to disturb any more than necessary.

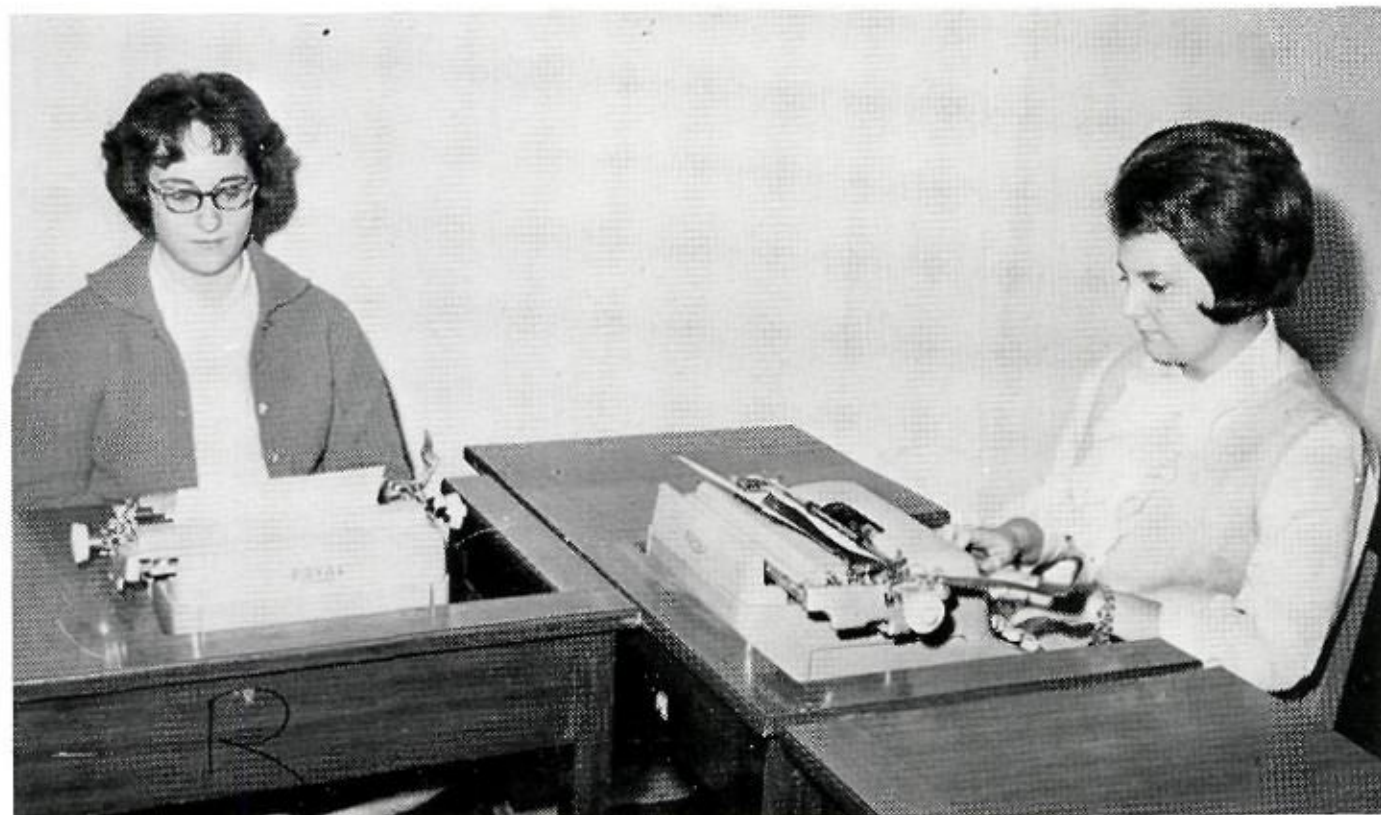

The success of any sales campaign depends largely on how well it is advertised. Jean Walton, Vonita Ellzey, Sharon Brown, and Mary Hill assume the responsibility of making posters notifying the student body and members of the faculty of the sales dates so that everyone will remember to order a Sequoyah.

Circulation Staff Supervises Sales

The responsibility for the sales and collections of the yearbooks were handled by the Sequoyah Circulation Staff under the direction of Mrs. Norma Jean Brown. With Manager Jody Langdon coordinating the individual tasks, these girls worked especially hard at the beginning of the year to make Sequoyah sales an encouraging success. They continued working throughout the year to prepare for delivery of the book. The reward most cherished by the staff is the cheerful smile of a brave looking at his Sequoyah for the first time.

Guin Hester, Lynda Lloyd, Lorrie Miller and Gwen Stanley check in their collections for the day with Manager Jody Langdon. After all collections have been deposited, the manager must prepare the complete collection deposit for the school bookkeeper.

Before beginning the Sequoyah sales campaign, it is necessary to prepare forms to be used in making collections. Carole Waites and Jackie Norwood type instruction sheets for staff members and teachers, and forms that are to be used in making collections and checking records.

After each sales day Shirley Head, Linda LaFitte, and Brenda Grace perform the tedious task of examining each teachers' book of receipts. Each book is checked to see that it is accounted for, that each receipt form is properly filled in, and that total collections tally with total receipts.

Kay Kneipp, Co-Manager, and Lorene Jones, Manager, lead the staff in a successful year of selling ads. They acquired their positions by selling the greatest number of ads.

Charlotte Chandler and Linda Bozeman cut out ads to be pasted on a dummy of the advertising section of the yearbook.

Ad Staff Members Meet Sales Quota

The Sequoyah Ad Staff, beginning their work in early fall, contact prospective buyers in September. Each member of the Staff works to meet her quota of sales, the proceeds of which go to help to finance the publication of the yearbook and keep it at a reasonable price. Other duties of the members through the year include recording ad sales, typing statements, and verifying ads. Membership is gained by recommendation of all teachers and maintaining a C+ average. The two girls selling the greatest amount of ads are made manager and co-manager respectively. This year through the leadership of Manager, Lorene Jones, and Co-Manager, Kay Kneipp, the staff rose to new heights of financial success.

The girls, having qualities of charm, courtesy, and initiative, gain valuable experience in learning to meet the public. One reward given the staff for their service is a gold or silver charm. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Fullerton and Mrs. Pearl Dalton, the staff maintained their usual high record of sales.

Sue King, Linda Dillahunty, Barbara Faust, and Cynthia Shergalis find that typing statements gives them experience which will be valuable to them in finding a job.

Jean Walton, Vonita Ellzey, Peggy Innis, and Susan McKinney look up addresses for the billing of advertisers.

Barbara Bayne, Linda Harville, and Loree Tinin prepare the last statement for mailing.

MUSIC

by

Fair Park Band Orchestra Choir

Music is one of the rare things that can be enjoyed by everyone. It is unique in that it has a different value for every individual. For those who participate in music and sincerely strive to excel in a particular branch of it, music offers the opportunity for creativity and enjoyment. For those who do not participate in the school music groups, it offers entertainment and pleasure.

Civic Groups Enjoy Choir Performances

The Fair Park choirs enjoyed a busy year during which they sang for school functions and civic groups. They performed for the Lion's Club, the Rotary Club, and the Optimist Club. At Christmas they presented an excellent program and in the spring their final concert ended a most successful year.

The "A" and "B" choirs meet five days a week and are open to anyone interested in vocal music. One credit in music is earned toward graduation.

The "Girls'" choir offers part-time training in vocal music. It meets three days a week and one-half credit is earned. A variety of music including religious, comedy, and classical is sung.

Colorful Band Music Stirs School Spirit

Considered by its members and Mr. Walter Minnear, its director, to be one of the best ever at Fair Park, the band participated in many activities in 1963 and 1964. In addition to four concerts, the band played at festivals and contests throughout the state, journeyed to Lafayette on a spring tour, and visited a dude ranch in Mississippi.

By the annual sale of "band candy" and season memberships to concerts, as well as other projects undertaken with the assistance of the band and orchestra Parents' Club, the band was able to finance its tour and other activities, and to provide entertainment for the student body.

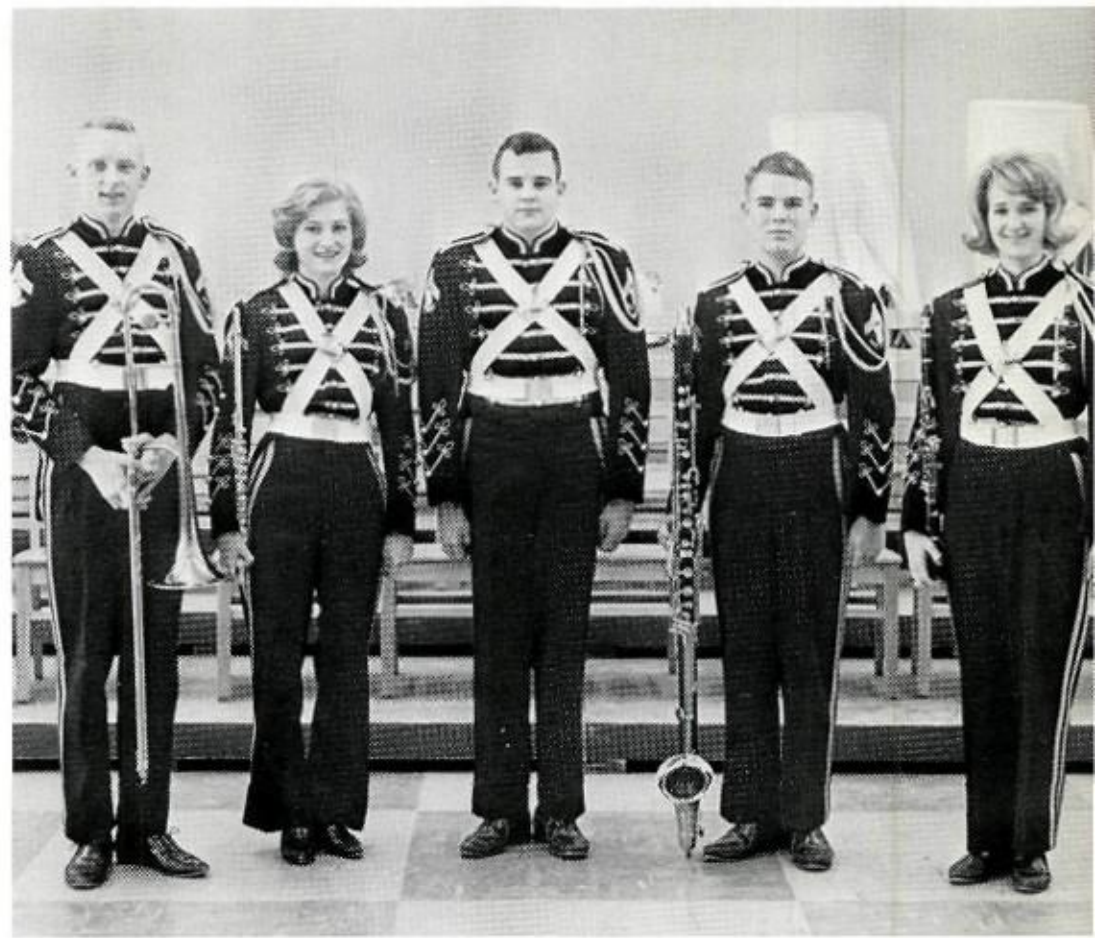

Throughout the year, the band aided in the production of assembly programs and pep rallies with spirited playing and fine musicianship. During football season it provided intermission marching performances, adding color to these events and bringing pride to the school at marching festivals.

Fair Park Orchestra Presents Concerts

The Symphony Orchestra of Fair Park added to its many honors this year by attending the Louisiana State Music Festival in Lafayette. This honor was won by earning a "Superior" rating in last year's district festival. To complete their trip, they spent one day and two nights at the Gulf Hills Dude Ranch and Country Club in Ocean Springs, Mississippi.

Orchestra members were kept busy this year with a number of activities. Five concerts were given including a concert of soloists, two joint concerts with the band, and a separate concert. In the spring they played at the festival held here at Fair Park. In order to raise funds for uniforms, tours, and other expenses, they joined the band in the annual candy sale, spaghetti supper, and sale of season tickets.

Directing the group was Mr. Walter Minniear, who was named "Band Master of the Year" by the Band Masters' Association.

Officers of the Student Council, Roy Eichler, President; Gordon Raley, Vice-President; Marie Nichols, Recording Secretary; Donna Sisco, Treasurer; Johnny Landrem, Parliamentarian; and Delores Ouzts, Corresponding Secretary, led the council to a successful year.

Student Council Is Governing Body

The Student Council is an organization of students, elected by students, to serve as the official representative of the student body in all matters of concern to the entire school. It provides a forum in which students may learn citizenship through actual practice.

Representatives of the student council attended the Louisiana Association of Student Councils Workshop and Convention, as well as National Workshop and the Southern Student Council Convention. Marie Nichols was elected "Outstanding Council Worker" at the workshop held at Southwestern.

President Roy Eichler handles a large group of student body representatives with his gavel in a regular Tuesday morning meeting.

Senators From Three Classes Elected

Sophomore Senators Linda Eichler, Melody Pinnix, Cathy Fetzer, Nick Rinaudo, and Barry Rutherford paved the way for the ideas of the newcomers.

Council Heads Many Activities

Included in the multitude of activities sponsored by the Student Council this year were: the Hixie Davidson Memorial Scholarship, sockhops, a Valentine dance, the annual Student Council talent show, elections, bulletin boards, chapel services, Youth Week, school spirit drives, Sophomore Week, ushering for Lawrence Welk, Ice Capades, Gulf South Classics, the Rodeo, and at college football games, Tee Pee Day, Teacher Appreciation Day, Pride in Our School Week, revision of the constitution, and Christmas baskets.

Following democratic procedure, the student body must register to vote as Susan Manis and Luther Horton are doing.

Council Promotes School Safety

To promote safety at home as well as at school is the objective of the Safety Council. Monthly meetings provide for discussion of future safety programs and encourage members to promote not only school and home safety but also traffic safety.

Selling checking parking stickers, checking incorrectly parked cars, and sponsoring a Safety Week are a few of the outstanding activities in which the organization participates.

Junior Red Cross Publishes Directory

An experienced club at Fair Park, the Junior Red Cross, worked for the betterment of the community. Representatives chosen from each home room combined their efforts to achieve this job. Throughout the year projects were designed for the welfare of others. At Christmas and Thanksgiving they prepared tray favors for those in the hospitals and filled baskets for the needy. Besides accomplishing these many projects for the welfare of others the Junior Red Cross sponsored projects to the advantage of the students. They sold corsages for the Homecoming football game and published the student directory, which gives the names, phone numbers, and addresses of all Fair Park students.

Faculty sponsor for the club is Miss Fox.

Students Perform School Store Tasks

The twelve Fair Parkers who work in the School Store do so on a voluntary basis. They come here during their study halls to make sure that you don't miss that English exam because you have no paper. In addition to paper they also sell such items as notebooks, pencils, ball point pens. They even have Fair Park license plate guards. The experience gained by these students in this phase of school duty will prove invaluable to them in years to come because they have a chance to deal with a variety of students and learn how to develop a personality that is pleasing to everyone.

Their sponsor is Mr. Martin Nutt.

Margaret Parrot, Karen Merritt, and Ginger Sutton meet all types of students in their store duties. Their warm smiles and friendly personalities are pleasant to both students and faculty members.

Junior girls Glenda Gooch, Marilyn Brewster, and Barbara Bryant are three of the twelve Indians who served as store assistants during the hour scheduled as their study hall.

Barbara Russell, James Thornton, Barbara Hayes, and Mary Melton worked throughout the year to keep students supplied with all the necessities of school life such as paper, pencils, and pens.

Art Club Teaches Art Appreciation

The Art Club teaches appreciation of art and enables many students who are unable to take art to have extracurricular study.

Guest speakers ranging from commercial artists to portrait painters are presented to the club. For the first time the Art Club has selected a council of representatives to share in new ideas for art activities. This year's projects have included the giving of tags commemorating the true spirit of Christmas, a poster contest, and decorations for Mardi Gras. Art exhibits in the halls for the enjoyment of the student body is another project of the club.

Displaying some artistic works are Art Club President Bobby Green, first Vice-President Billie Stevens, second Vice-President Albert Ybanez, and Secretary-Treasurer Diane Reger.

writing. During these programs members learned new forms of writing and better ways of presenting ideas. They heard amusing selections and took time out occasionally to write practicing what they had learned.

Members shared their work by reading their own writings aloud and hearing criticisms from fellow members. Each member turned in at least one piece of his own writing at each meeting.

Discussing their writings, Lynne Gregory, Earlene Wells, and Roger Wedgeworth get helpful suggestions from each other.

Debate Club Wins High Honors

Under the guidance of Mr. Cloud, Fair Park's Debate Club has improved with each competition. The tournaments at Northwestern, Northeast, Louisiana Tech, Centenary, L.S.U., and the Tournament of Champions at Byrd were among the competitions entered by the club.

Highly rated as a team, many individual honors were also won. Teams winning "Superior" ratings this year were Gordon Raley and Wade Dorman, Suzanne Fox and Barbara Brantly, with "Excellent" ratings going to Sharon Ratcliff and Ellen Smith, Johnny Landrem and Norman Courtney. Individual events winners include Gordon Raley in extemporaneous speaking and oratory, Wade Dorman in interpretation and radio speaking, Suzanne Fox in extemporaneous speaking and oratory, Amanda Davis in radio speaking, and Johnny Landrem and Norman Courtney in after-dinner speaking.

Gordon Raley and Wade Dorman discuss their topic in preparation for a debate. Awarded a superior ranking, Wade and Gordon have combined to become one of Fair Park's outstanding debate teams.

Convention Climax of Key Club Year

The Fair Park Chapter of Key Club International completed another extremely successful year. Activities during the summer included buying the Key Club bell, electing new members, and attending a workshop in Natchez, Mississippi, for any members wishing to attend. School year projects were the ringing of the bell for the Salvation Army, selling of bag-Byrd-bags during Beat Byrd Week, a pancake supper, the formation of Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets, and the selling of Fair Park decals. Other activities included having a paper mache Indian built, electing of new officers in February, and having a case made for the Wooden Indian. The year was climaxed with a convention in Biloxi, Mississippi, where the members were given an opportunity to learn more about the club to which they belong.

"Z" Club Experiences First Year of Service

The greatest gift of all is the gift of service. Service to school, community, and city is the main objective of the Fair Park Chapter of the "Z" Club sponsored by the Shreveport Zonta Club. Service builds character, and strengthens the mind toward making better Christians, and dependable future citizens. This year has been the first one for this organization and has proven to be a very successful one. The Club consists of forty girls who hold a "B" or better average, are strong in character, and are willing to give of their time to service.

Some of the activities during the year were: a talent show at the Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children, a Christmas basket for a needy, decorating for the football banquet, and many other worthwhile services.

President, Mary LeVasseur, shows Guin Hester the proper way to fill in a service sheet, which is a record of hours spent helping others.

Active Latin Club Has Successful Year

Challenged to maintain the high standards set forth by the club last year the members of the Latin Club worked and planned many hours to have a successful year. A style show, a Roman banquet, and the many activities of Latin Week were the main projects of the year. Though promoting interest in the Latin language and Roman civilization was the primary purpose of the club, the importance of scholarship, and personal initiative were emphasized as an important part of school life by Mrs. Ruth Johns, club sponsor.

Seventy of the club's one hundred and seventy members represented Fair Park at the State Junior Classical League Convention held in Baton Rouge in April.

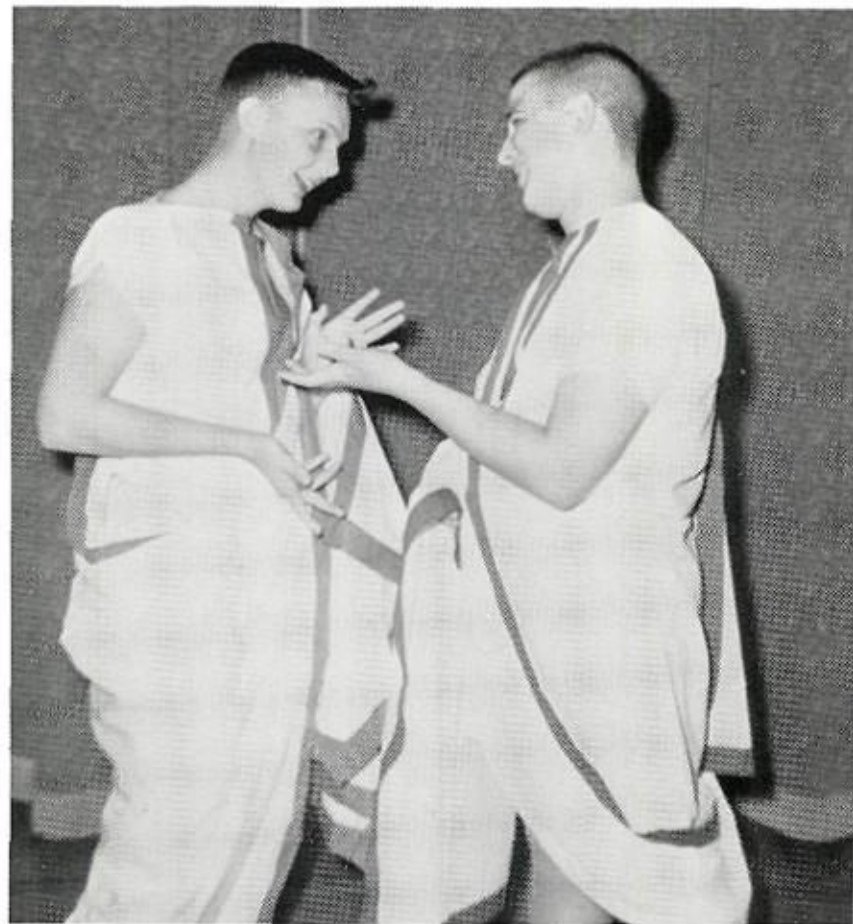

Nuntius Latinus, the state Latin Club paper, was edited at Fair Park with Trudy Gann serving as the editor.

Mrs. Ruth Johns makes an announcement to the Latin Club about the upcoming banquet. Because of her energetic nature Mrs. Johns has devoted many hours of her time to help make the Latin Club a successful organization.

Voting on an important issue the members of the Latin Club conduct a business session at the beginning of a meeting.

Linda Brock models her lovely costume at a club style show. The dress is completed with a tunic, necklace, and bracelets.

Drew Thigpen, Jerry Kilpatrick, Willie Frantom, and Robert Boston wear their togas in the style show held at the beginning of the year for the new members.

Bobbie Kennedy, Trudy Gann, Tam McLaughlin, Sandra Nuckolls, Penny Tucker, and Karen Koch begin to prepare the spring edition of Nuntius Latinus, the state Latin Club paper published at Fair Park.

Jean Lewis, Delores Ouzts, Barbara Bracken, Barbara Brantly, and Andrea White organize the Latin Club's scrapbook which is taken to the state convention in the spring of each year.

Cynthia Shergalis wears a dress like that worn by a Roman lady. A colorful band over the blouse makes it a very cute costume.

The splendor that was Rome is evident in the vivid fashions of the royal and noble costumes of the wealthy Romans.

Diana Smith, Charleen Boyd, and James Crawford display only a few of the colorful Spanish costumes which members possess.

Rita Nallin and Jeannie Stuart display symbols of Spanish life. The club studies many articles of Spanish culture.

Spanish Club Attains Successful Year

"Greetings from the Spanish students and the Spanish Club." The activities of the Spanish Club this year were centered around Spanish Week and the Thanksgiving project for the children at the Shriners' hospital. One hundred children were presented with bags of candy and other gifts at the hospital. With the aid of Mrs. Flores, sponsor of the club, all the projects and activities were great successes.

During Spanish Week, the students and teachers are given a look into the Spanish world. Each member enters into the activities of this week which is climaxed by a special banquet at a local Spanish restaurant. Other events of the year included two parties and three special projects.

year was French Week, during which posters were displayed and other activities conducted to stimulate interest in the French language. At the end of the year, a week-end train trip to New Orleans was enjoyed by the members.

In order to be eligible for membership, a student must be presently studying French or have studied French for two years. Each member is required to learn "La Marseillaise," the National French Anthem.

The use of a tape recorder helps in the pronunciation of French words. Judy Irland and Dan Brown read the words of a song from a French album.

Visual-Aids Group Asset to School

The students responsible for the films seen each year at Fair Park are all members of the Visual Aids Club. It is their duty to see that the films are shown, mended if necessary, rewound, and returned to owners. At their yearly banquet they are presented various awards according to their years of service. The first year members receive a certificate, second year members receive a pin, and third year members receive a guard for the pin from the previous year. They are supervised by Mrs. Jane Mason.

Seated: Frances Allen. Standing: Jimmy Fisher, Ranny Griffin, Stanley Messinger, Phil Rodgers, Richard Hooter, Randy Green.

Students Assist in Work of Library

Working in the school library is the good fortune of twenty-three book-minded Indians. These students perform many duties from checking books out to shelving them. They watch out for overly damaged books and turn them in for repair. At the end of a hard year's work, all of the members relax at a banquet for which they save throughout the year. It is here that they are awarded their certificate, gold pin, or pin guard according to the number of years they have worked in the library. Their work is guided by Mrs. Geraldine Garner.

Students Assist in Office Work

If you have a need to go to the office, you will probably find a student working there who will be glad to help you. The office assistants are a group of thirty-eight boys and girls who give one hour a day for school duty. For their faithful service each boy receives a lapel pin and each girl a charm. The members are presented a bronze, silver, or gold award for one, two, and three years work respectively. Their services are distributed through the three main offices of the school and their duties range from collecting absentee cards to delivering the daily bulletin.

4-H Club Work Builds Good Citizens

Achievement Day, the parish-wide 4-H event of the year, was hosted by this year's Fair Park 4-H Club. The event which draws about six hundred members annually required the full cooperation of the club's members. Although this was the largest single undertaking, several other club projects including a National 4-H Club Week campaign, decoration of the stock sale arena at the State Fair, and a club hayride were completed.

Besides the club's group projects, each individual has one or more projects of his own. Members compete individually in contests at Achievement Day, parish and state fairs, state 4-H Short Course, special contests and a few fortunate ones go to Chicago for National Competition.

Working individually, competing for honors, and working as a group, help the members develop leadership and good citizenship.

D.E. Prepares the Student for Future

No matter what vocational goals are, high school students can start working toward these goals through Distributive Education at Fair Park. Members of these classes go to school half the day and work the other half. The organization helps students find places in the business world. It helps to prepare them for employment after graduation and to learn methods of the business world.

These students work for various businesses in Shreveport as salesmen, clerks, office workers, mechanics, and a variety of other positions.

Alan Middleton, Vice-President, is a salesman in a jewelry store.

F.F.A. Studies Modern Agriculture

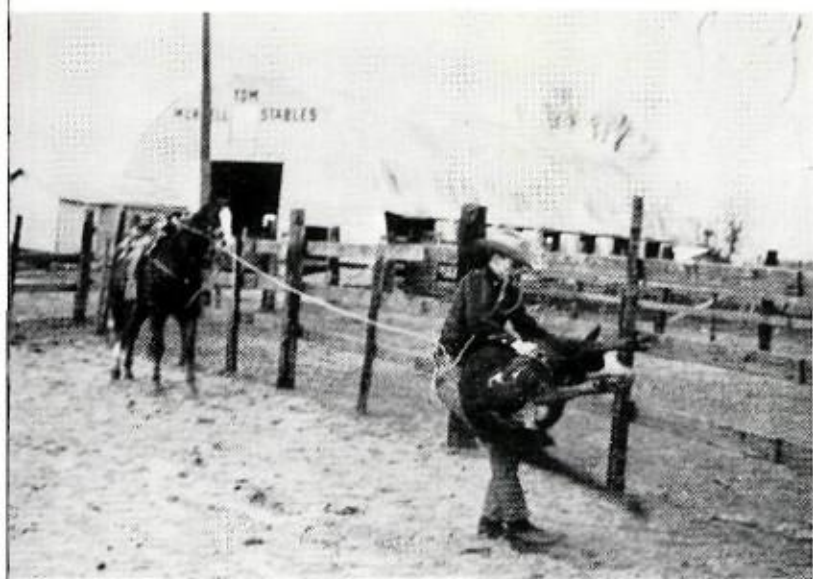

Members of the Future Farmers of America strive to learn more about the best farming methods of the day. Each year the students adopt projects in different areas of agriculture and farming. They enter statewide contests in livestock, crop judging, parliamentary procedure, dairy judging, poultry, and gardening. Members are especially active in local horse shows and events.

Two delegates are selected each year to attend the National Future Farmers of America convention.

Officers of the club are Sonny Ashford, President; David Rowe, Vice-President; Doug Holland, Secretary; Lonnie Anglin, Treasurer; Bo Dudley, Parliamentarian; and Bill Magness, Reporter.

Future Homemakers Place Parish Officers

To promote appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking and to further interest in home economics are two purposes of the Future Homemakers of America. Among their projects is helping with the March of Dimes. The club also sponsors a Christmas party for the faculty.

Guest speakers are often presented to the one hundred sixty-five members. Opportunities for study are available in planning and carrying out activities related to homemaking. Members attend three conventions a year: state, parish, and district. Parish officers in the Fair Park chapter are Billie Oden, Vice-President, and Laureen Maloy, Songleader.

Trudy Gann and Billy Ivy have the chance to perform extra activities by being in the Chemistry Club.

Members of Chemistry Club Explore Science

Students who belong to the Chemistry Club are afforded many opportunities to explore scientific fields. Throughout the year, various films are shown and interesting speakers are presented to the club. One of the highlights of this year was a field trip to Confederate Memorial Hospital. Jim Balentine, a chemical engineer, was the first speaker of the year. Other speakers were a petroleum engineer and a chemistry professor from Centenary College. Another field trip to the Shreveport Water Plant gave members a first hand view of the city's water supply and its processing. The climax of the year was a banquet at a well known restaurant of Shreveport.

Science Club Grows During Second Year

After adopting a constitution only last year, the Science Club has increased rapidly going into its second year of service at Fair Park. This club was organized to promote more interest in the various fields of science. The faculty sponsor for this organization is Miss Glover.

Guest speakers who talked on various scientific topics and numerous field trips throughout the city highlighted the activities for the year.

Physics Club Probes Scientific Fields

The newest application of the growing interest in the field of science at Fair Park is the Physics Club. Although this club was organized again just this year, after five years of inactivity, it is growing rapidly and already contains about forty members. Those who are members are able to develop their knowledge of the sciences. Throughout the year the group received different speakers on Physics and the other sciences. Among these were a geologist and a representative from the Civil Defense organization. Besides these speakers the club enjoyed films and an opportunity to further their individual interests by performing extra experiments.

Mr. Weldon is the faculty sponsor for the club.

Members of the Physics Club, Jackie Lockard, Gordon Raley, and Mike Hopkins, spend their extra time observing the electro-static machine.

The Future Teachers of America Club is responsible for the workroom. Jenice Reyenga and Michele Aldridge demonstrate the use of the duplicator machine.

F.T.A. Aids Teachers During Study Halls

The Dean R. E. Smith Chapter of Future Teachers of America observed classes in elementary schools and assisted Fair Park teachers during their study halls. Each member had the opportunity of attending various teachers' meetings. Members in the future will have an active part in the annual convention of the Louisiana Teachers' Association.

To become a member of this service organization, one must maintain a "C" average and be recommended by a teacher. Invitations for membership are given at the end of the school year for this honor club. Sponsored by Miss Inez Franz, the thirty-three members receive valuable training in the teaching profession.

Officers are Kathy Weferling, President; Jenice Reyenga, Vice-President; Delores Ouzts, Secretary; Carolyn Easley, Treasurer; Dan Brown, Historian; Linda LaFitte, Reporter; and Cynthia Shergalis, Parliamentarian.

Medical Assistant Group Organized

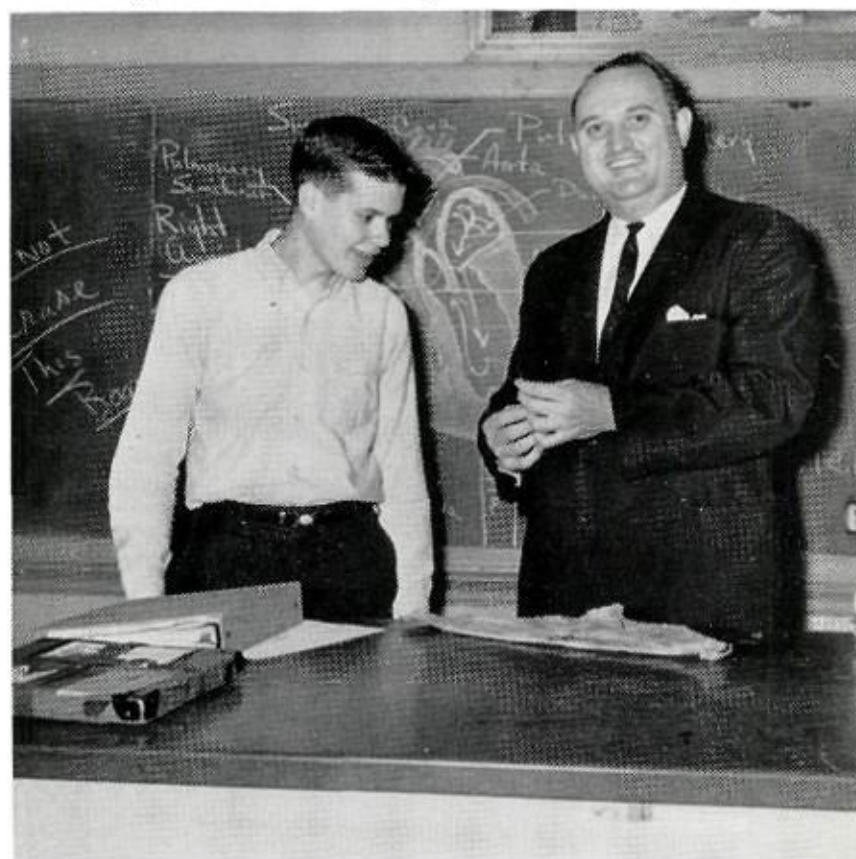

In response to a growing need of interested High School students to become acquainted with the working of the medical profession, the Student Medical Assistants Club was formed. Medically, it is an organization which affords interested students an opportunity to volunteer work in a hospital. Along with this the students hear lectures and see films about different areas of medicine.

While in the hospital the students may work in either the wards or the X-RAY room. Also the students may work in the emergency room, pharmacy, and in the dental clinic. The positions are rotated at intervals so all the students get experience in different fields at the different Shreveport hospitals.

Numismatists Study United States Coins

A newly-organized club this year was the Coin Club. With the purpose of exploring the types of coins used in this country, meetings were held once each week. Lectures, discussion of personal collections, and viewing of exhibits of local coin enthusiasts completed the agenda for the year. Each member has an interesting collection and some valuable coins. Sponsored by Miss Sandra Glover, the club offers individual participation in projects.

Girls Participate in Intramurals

To promote a friendly spirit among the students of the school through team and individual competition is the main objective of the Girls Intramural Sports program. Girls compete in volleyball, basketball, tennis, and table tennis tournaments during the year. Service and leadership awards are presented at the end of the year to the most deserving students. The GIS has developed a new improved program in which many girls of all classifications have participated.

Athletics

Everyone remembers the excitement generated by an all-important game, the school spirit, and the just plain fun brought about by competitive sports. Without the support of the student body the team would have nothing to work toward. But we all felt the tension of a close game and throughout the year we supported the teams in moments of triumph and defeat.

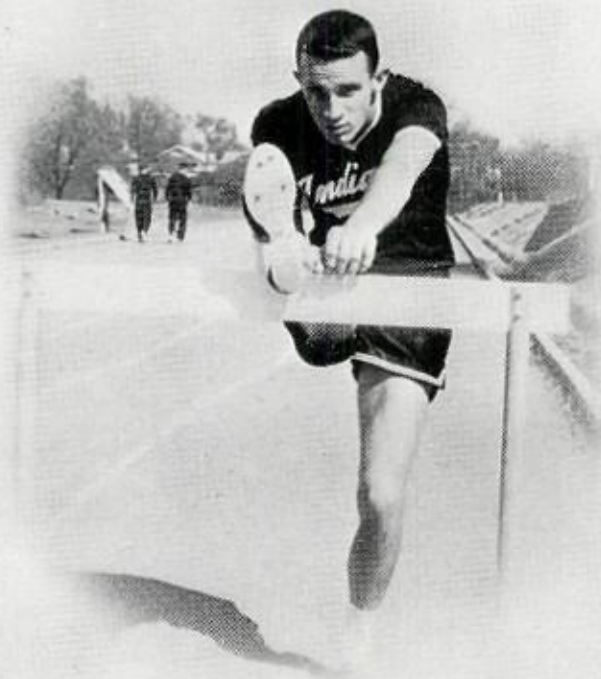

Athletics not only developed us physically, but also mentally. We learned to co-operate and work successfully with others and we learned lessons of good sportsmanship.

A true test of character comes in moments of pressure and those who participated in athletics at Fair Park passed this test with flying colors. One must remember that throughout the years the personal challenge presented in competition has developed the characters of many great leaders.

Chris,
I have enjoyed getting to know you this year. I hope our friendship grows through the years, may you succeed in everything you do.

Best of Luck,
Chris Lynch

Indians Complete Exciting Season

Football is the first sport to face the reservation after the summer holidays. When looking for a winning season in football, one looks not only at scores but also at the participants and their sportsmanship. The Indians truly had an exciting season this fall. The tribe had a rugged playing and training schedule in the fall, but their determination and spirit was a comfort in time of defeat.

The loss of team star fullback, Steve Jones, crippled the team considerably. But quarterback Tommy Roberts, with many magnificent plays, led the tribe to a 4-7 season. Impressive wins came over the 1-AA runners-up, the Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers, Ouachita Lions, Carthage Bulldogs, and the Rebels of North Caddo.

Manager Jimmy Dinkins weathers the storm at the homecoming game.

Fair Park 26 — Carthage 13

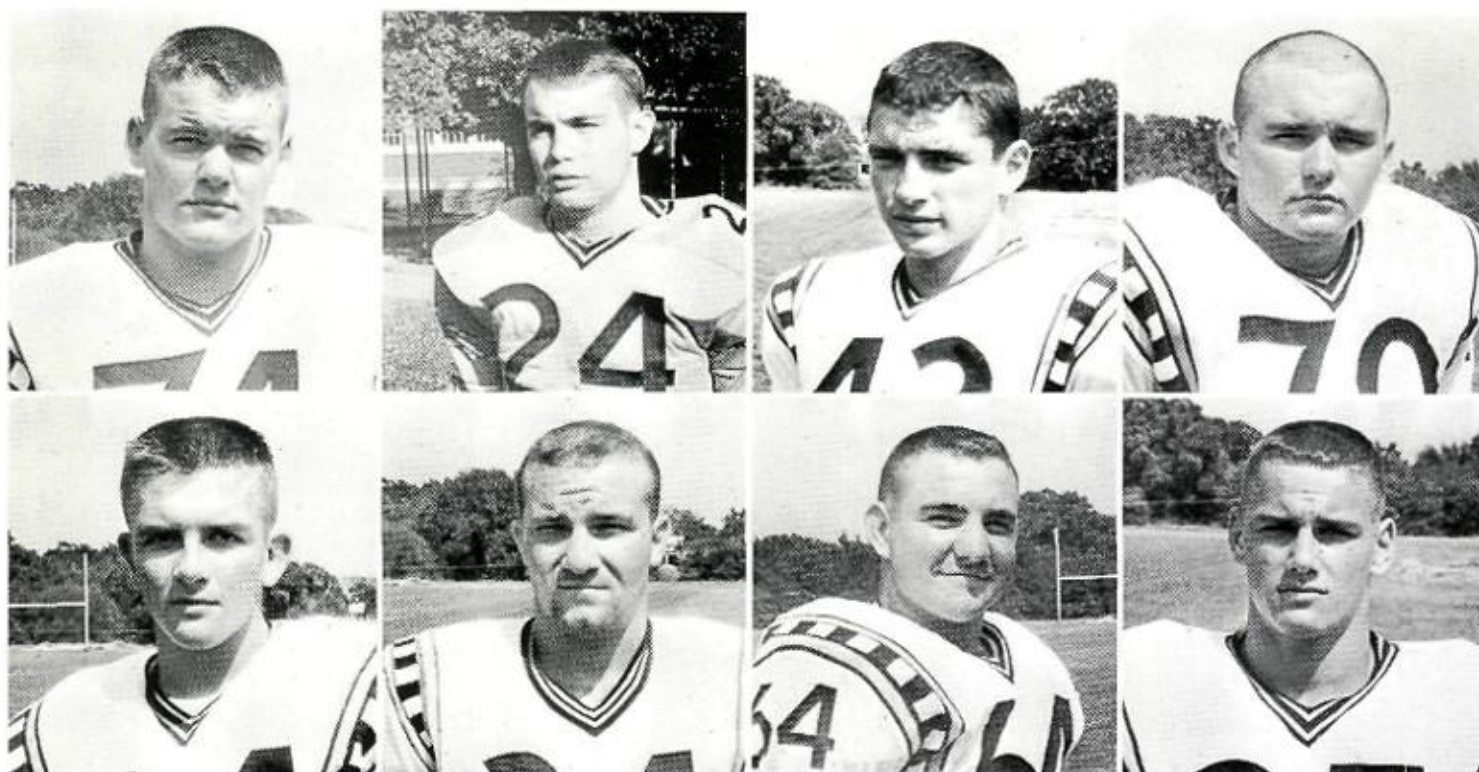

Fair Park, led by the hard running of Steve Jones, opened the season with a victory over the Carthage Bulldogs. Jones pounded out 110 yards on 13 carries and started the scoring on a 50-yard scamper on the third play from scrimmage. Davis and Christian added to the scoring on runs of 14 and 59 yards respectively. The Indians made 246 yards on the ground and 95 yards in the air. Davis' score was the climax of a 42 yard drive in which Jones added runs of seven, nine, and six yards. A fumble recovery by Tommy Roberts saved the Indians in the final minute of the first half allowing them to go to the dressing room with a 13-7 lead. Jones finished out the Indians' scoring on a 3-yard blast up the middle, which was the climax of a 51-yard drive.

Fair Park 7 — Woodlawn 28

The Fair Park Indians were surprised by Woodlawn as the Knights ran past the Tribe 28-7. The first half was all defense as the two teams fought to a 7-7 tie. The Knights' first score came after they had recovered an Indian fumble. The Indians turned immediately and scored with Roberts' 68-yard run. The Indians were deep in Knight territory but lacked a yard for a first down at the Knight six-yard line and thus ending the first half in a deadlock. The second half was all Woodlawn as the Knights scored three touchdowns. Woodlawn's Johnny Piazza proved to be too much for the Indians as he scored two touchdowns and ran for 115 yards. Halfbacks Gerald Burnett and Moss McCallister scored the other two touchdowns for Woodlawn.

Junior end, Tommy Ford, assists his Tribe teammates in stopping a hard driving Knight as several Woodlawners look on.

Fair Park 6 — Neville 13

The Tigers of Neville, staring defeat in the face, ran for two last quarter touchdowns to down the Indians 13-6. The Redmen struck for the first TD of the game with a 49-yard march in the third quarter led by Steve Jones. A 15-yard penalty against Neville and a 12-yard trip by Jones got the Tribe to the 21 where he hit for two more. A Tommy Robert pass fell incomplete and the Tribe signal caller came right back with a four-yard gain on a keeper to the Tiger 15. Faced with a fourth and four situation, Fair Park called on Jones again and the 190-pound fullback blasted through for seven yards to the eight on one of his finest carries of the night. Jones got two to the six where Roberts set up the TD with a sprint to the three. From there Jones scored with 3:58 left in the third. Carpenters's PAT was blocked.

Fair Park 7 — El Dorado 12

In an interstate battle, the host ElDorado Wildcats nipped the Fair Park Indians 12-7 on a blocked punt that provided the margin of victory. Butch Troegel's punt was blocked by the Wildcats on the Indians' four. From there Randy Tate hit pay dirt on the next play. Fair Park's lone score came in the third period when guard Tommy Johnson grabbed up a blocked Wildcat punt and raced 21 yards down the right sideline for a touchdown. Lynk Carpenter added the point after touchdown for a 7-6 lead. Steve Jones led the Tribe with an amazing 141 yards on 12 carries. The Indians had 223 total offense yards for the night while the Wildcats could only muster 146 yards.

Fair Park 14 — No. Caddo 7

The Tribe, led by Tommy Roberts and Steve Jones, edged out North Caddo 14-7. The win was a costly one for Steve Jones who suffered a broken collar bone and was sidelined for the rest of the season. Fair Park scored the winning tally in the fourth quarter on a sustained 90-yard drive. The big play of the drive came when Fair Park had the ball on their own 28, fourth down and one yard to go. The Indians elected to run and the Rebels, knowing they were coming, stacked their defense in front of center. Roberts gave to Danny Davis, who shattered the Rebel line for eight yards and a first down. The ball was advanced to the Rebel 20. From there, the Indians went over on three running plays. Roberts outraced the Rebels the final nine yards for the go-ahead touchdown. Carpenter added the extra point to make it 14-7.

Fair Park 0 — Bastrop 20

The Indians fell at the hands of unbeaten Bastrop, 20-0, in a lopsided District 1-AAA contest. The Rams' 340-yard total offense bested the Shreveport Eleven offense by 87 yards. The first half found the Indians holding the powerful Rams scoreless. The second half saw the mighty Rams revengeful, as Ricky Head scampered 60 yards on a punt return to chalk up the first score of the contest. Plays later, Johnny Bailey scored on a 5-yard play, and the kick being good, put a 14-0 score on the board. The third score came in the fourth period as Darrell Folse bombed out the final two yards and a 20-0 lead which held for the rest of the game.

Fair Park 27 — Ouachita 6

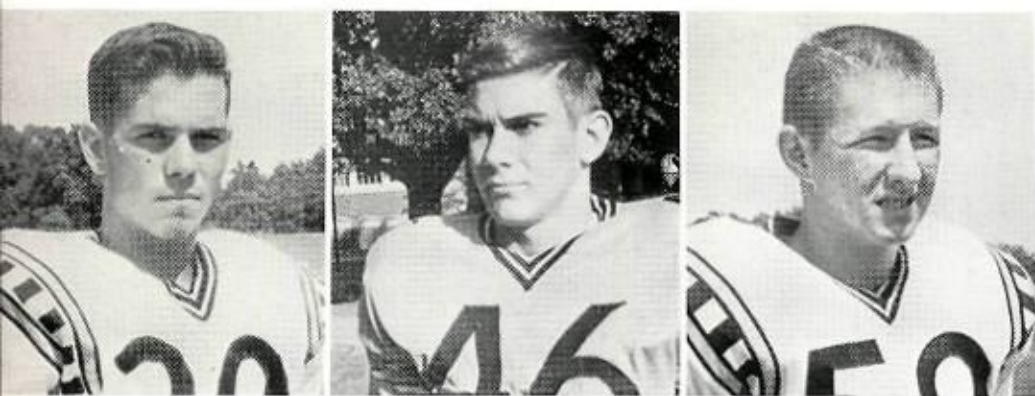

Fair Park Indians stymied the Ouachita Eleven and literally demolished the host Lions, 27-6, breaking into the win column against two losses. Quarterback, Tommy Roberts, put on a razzle dazzle show, leaving the fans gasping. Roberts had a fantastic night, completing 9 of 14 passes for 197 yards, and running for 92 yards, which is by far the best of the season from any Greater Shreveport passer. Tommy Ford was his receiver, as his aerial encounter was good for 50 yards. Roberts bulled for two yards hitting pay dirt for the first score. In the third period, the Indian signal caller unloaded a 30 yarder to halfback Schmidt. On the next play, Roberts rumbled to the goal line from the 15-yard marker to put the second score on the board. The third score was put into range by a 32 yarder from Roberts to Ford. Roberts ran for the last 3 yards. The fourth tally saw Roberts passing to Christian, making the fourth score possible. The Indians' passing and running demolished the opposition with 405 yards total offense.

Defensive linebacker, Billy Jordan, stops hard-driving Carthage back as fellow teammates Steve Yarberry and Donnie Juneau come in to assist.

Fair Park 0 — Bossier 12

The Indians took an opening kickoff and displayed an early-game offensive show, but fumbles and penalties added up to a 12-0 loss to Bossier. Sophomore fullback, Harry Watson, gained 38 yards to lead the Braves offensively. Ends, Tommy Youngblood and Tommy Ford, were defensive standouts. On the first score of the game, White rumbled the last yard. On the Bearkats' second drive, Prather scampered 26 yards before stepping out of bounds on the Indians' 45. On the fourth and three, White pegged an aerial to Dickie to hit pay dirt leaving it 12-0 which was good for the margin of victory.

Fair Park 20 — Jonesboro-Hodge 0

Fair Park stormed by Jonesboro-Hodge 20-0 in an upset victory. Senior halfback Steve Schmidt streaked 80 yards with the opening kickoff and came back with an eight-yard scoring trip in the third quarter. His shorter sprint in the third period capped a two-play, 20-yard drive that was set up when defensive halfback Jimmy Fisher intercepted a Tiger pass and returned it ten yards to the 20. Tommy Roberts had most of the Tribe's offense to his credit running for 60 yards on nine trips and hitting 7 of 11 passes for 69 yards. Roberts got the Indians' other score on a five-yard plunge in the second period. Lynk Carpenter hit on a 23-yard field goal, but this was wiped out by a 15-yard penalty. Carpenter tried again, but the ball landed short in the end zone.

Tommy Roberts displays the spirit and determination of an aggressive Fair Park team in the all-important Byrd game.

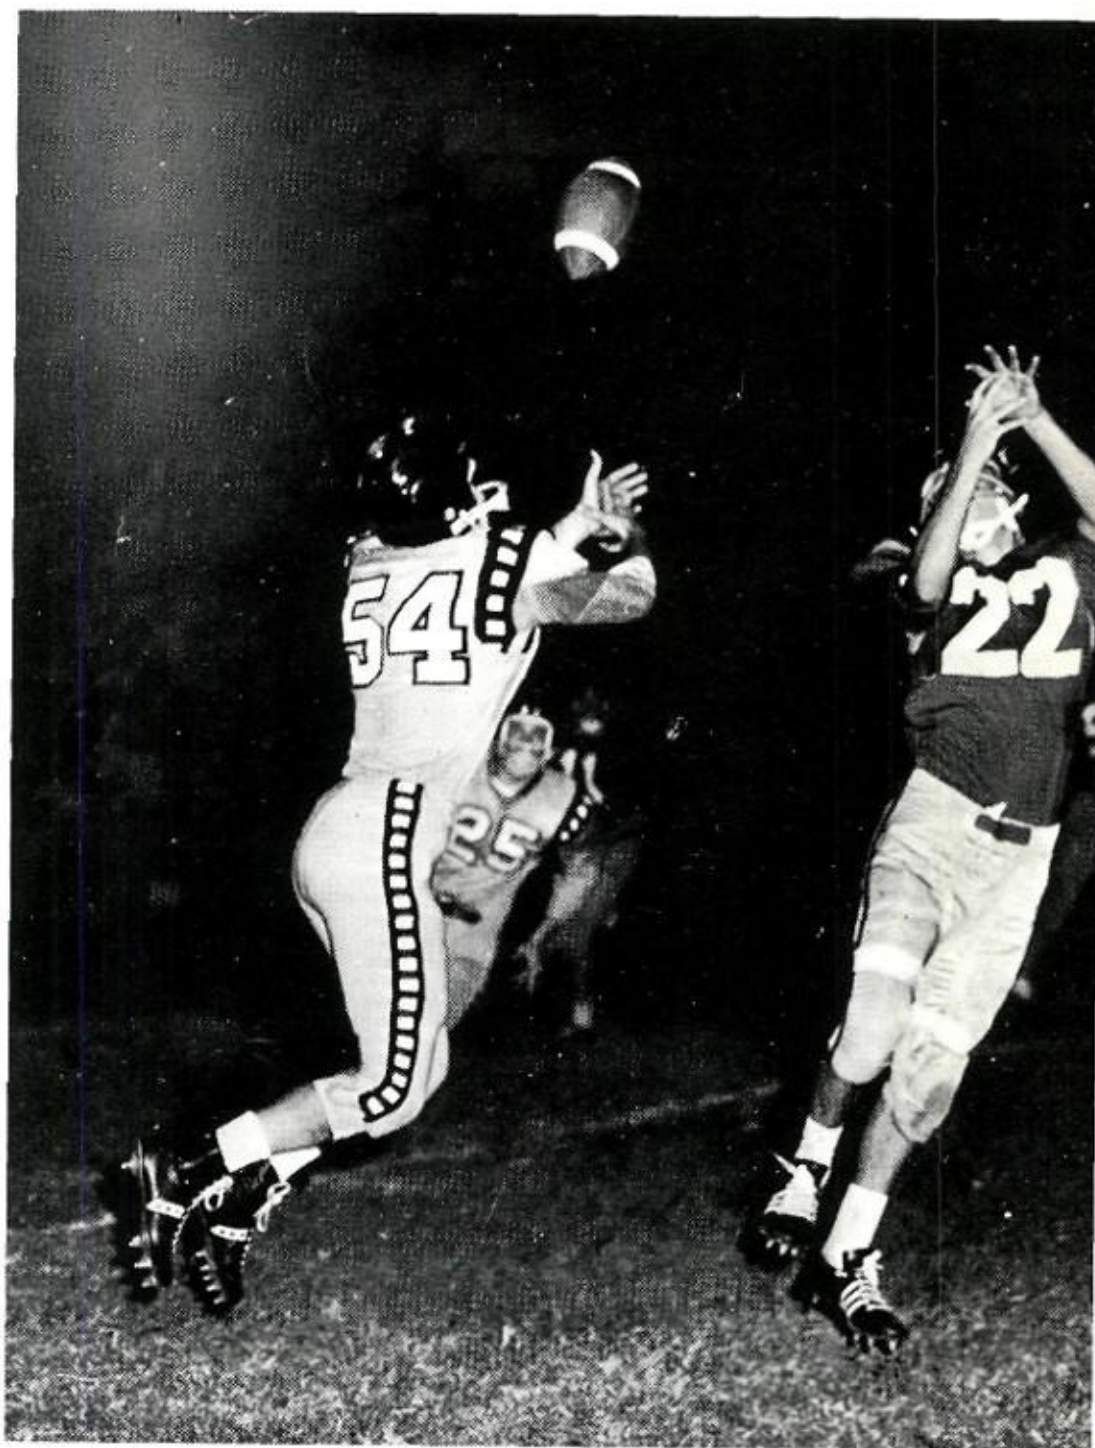

Fair Park 6 — W. Monroe 20

Fair Park's homecoming was spoiled by rainy weather and the Rebels of West Monroe. The visitors, led by fullback Chuck Crawford and halfback Ray Alexander, scored touchdowns in the first, third and final periods. The Indians scored their tally late in the fourth period. Fair Park, determined that they would not be shut out, drove 67 yards with the score coming on a two-yard pass from quarterback Tommy Roberts to halfback Dennis Christian. Watson was about the only offense that the Tribe could generate against the big Rebel line. The 145-pound sophomore pounded the line for 96 yards on 19 carries. Butch Troegel, the city's lead punter, gave the Indian fans a thrill on three occasions when he boomed off punts of 40, 37, and 49 yards. The battle left Fair Park with a 4-6 record.

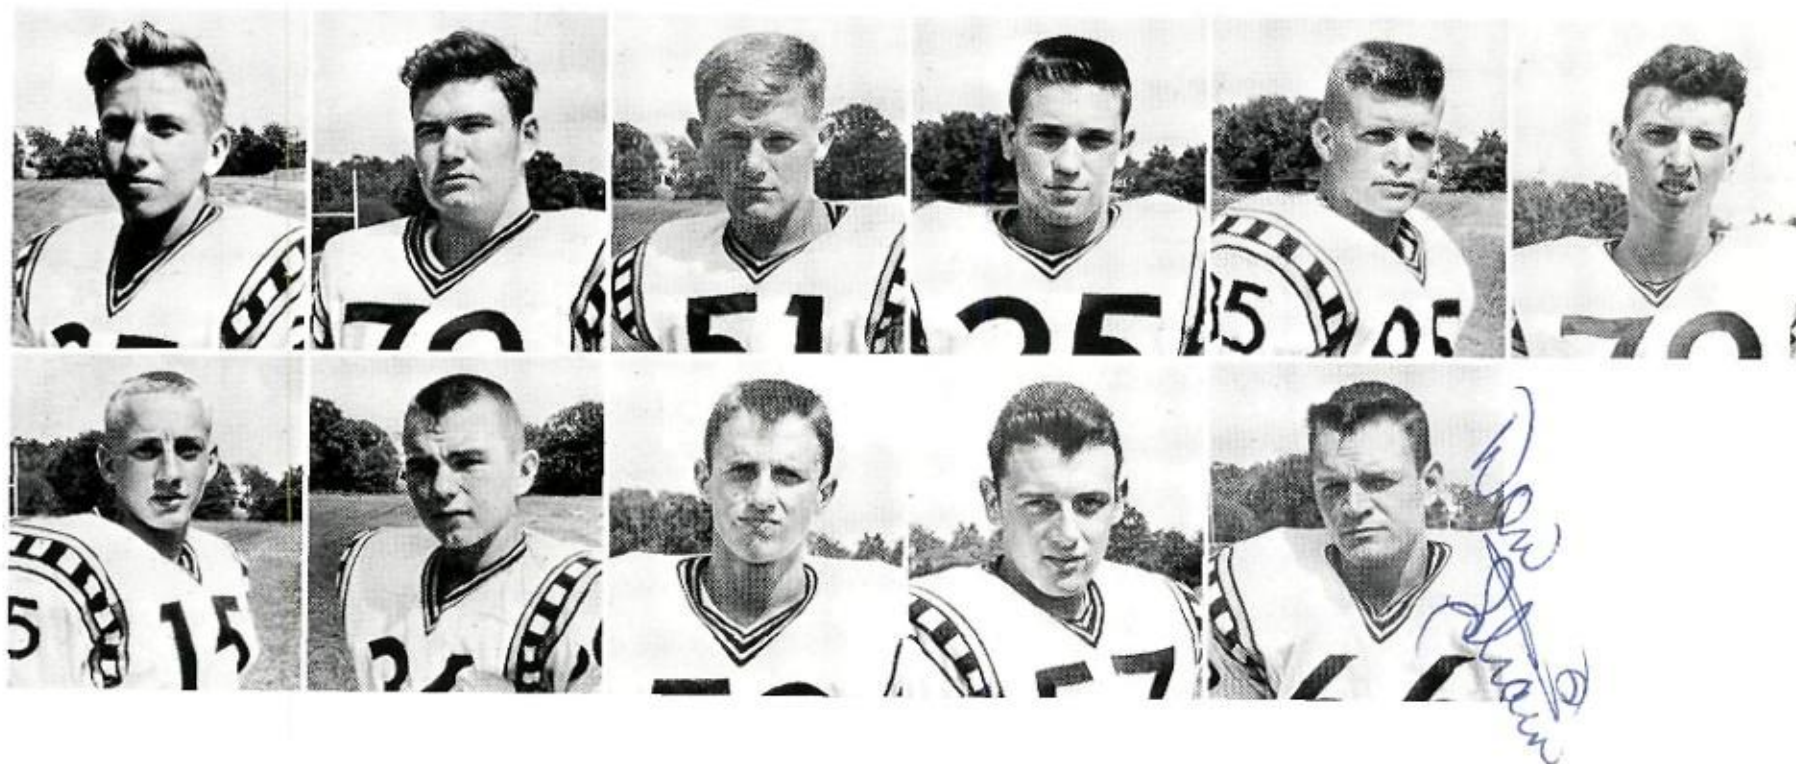

Fair Park 3 — Byrd 28

An inspired Tribe of Indians drew first blood with arch-rival Byrd, but fell 28-3 before a crushing ground attack. Lynk Carpenter gave the Tribe a 3-0 first quarter lead on a 29 yard field goal. The passing attack of the Braves accounted for 97 yards with Tommy Roberts throwing for 88. The loss gave Fair Park 12 wins in the series to 18 for Byrd. The Tribe finished the season with a 4-7 worksheet. Season standouts for the Tribe were Jesse Carrigan and Steve Schmidt on defense and Tommy Roberts and Steve Jones on offense. Though injured most of the season, Jones is tabbed as the Tribe's best for next year and has Fair Park fans hopeful of a winning season.

Awaiting a pass from quarterback Roberts, end Mike Herron pauses in midair as a Bossier Bearkat attempts to defend against it.

Tribe Places Second in State Playoffs

Proving itself to be made of the same championship material as the 1963 team, the 1964 Fair Park basketball team finished second in the state. Although they didn't finish first in state, they broke the 36 school record for most wins by posting a 38-4 record. The Indians were defeated in the championship game by Jesuit of New Orleans 87-57. The height of the Blue Jays proved to be too much for the stout-hearted Indians.

The Tribe finished first in district with a perfect 12-0 record. Fair Park's perfect season in the district marked only the third time in the history of 1-AAA that the trick has been turned.

Buddy Nelson led the Indians in scoring with 18.0 points per game average. He scored a high of 46 points against West Monroe. Andy Fullerton led the rebound department with a 14.7 average per game. Defensive standouts were juniors Dick Hicks and Larry Ostteen.

The "B" team finished in a tie with Byrd for the City Championship. Led by Tommy Roberts they recorded a 16-2 season slate and an 11-1 district record. The Sophomore team finished second in the city, next to Byrd. The season record was 14-5. Tom Shea was their high scorer.

Wins State Championship

Victory in the form of the Class AAA State Championship came to the Indians as a result of the defeat of the East Jefferson Warriors 4-1. The Tribe swept the best-of-three series in two games. The first win over the Warriors came in New Orleans. Then Fair Park reached the finals by defeating Holy Cross.

The Indians compiled an impressive 45-4-1 record. Within the team were the Player-of-the-Year in District and State, Pitcher-of-the-Year in District, six All-Staters, eight All-District, and seven All-City players. The pitching staff was led by James Rushworth, with 132 strikeouts and 10-1 record, Gary Johnson and Tommy Chiles with perfect records, and Ronny Bell with a .97 earn run average. In the batting department Buddy Nelson had the highest average with a .381, followed by David Worthington with .341, Jerry Solice with .339, and Joe Huffman with .336.

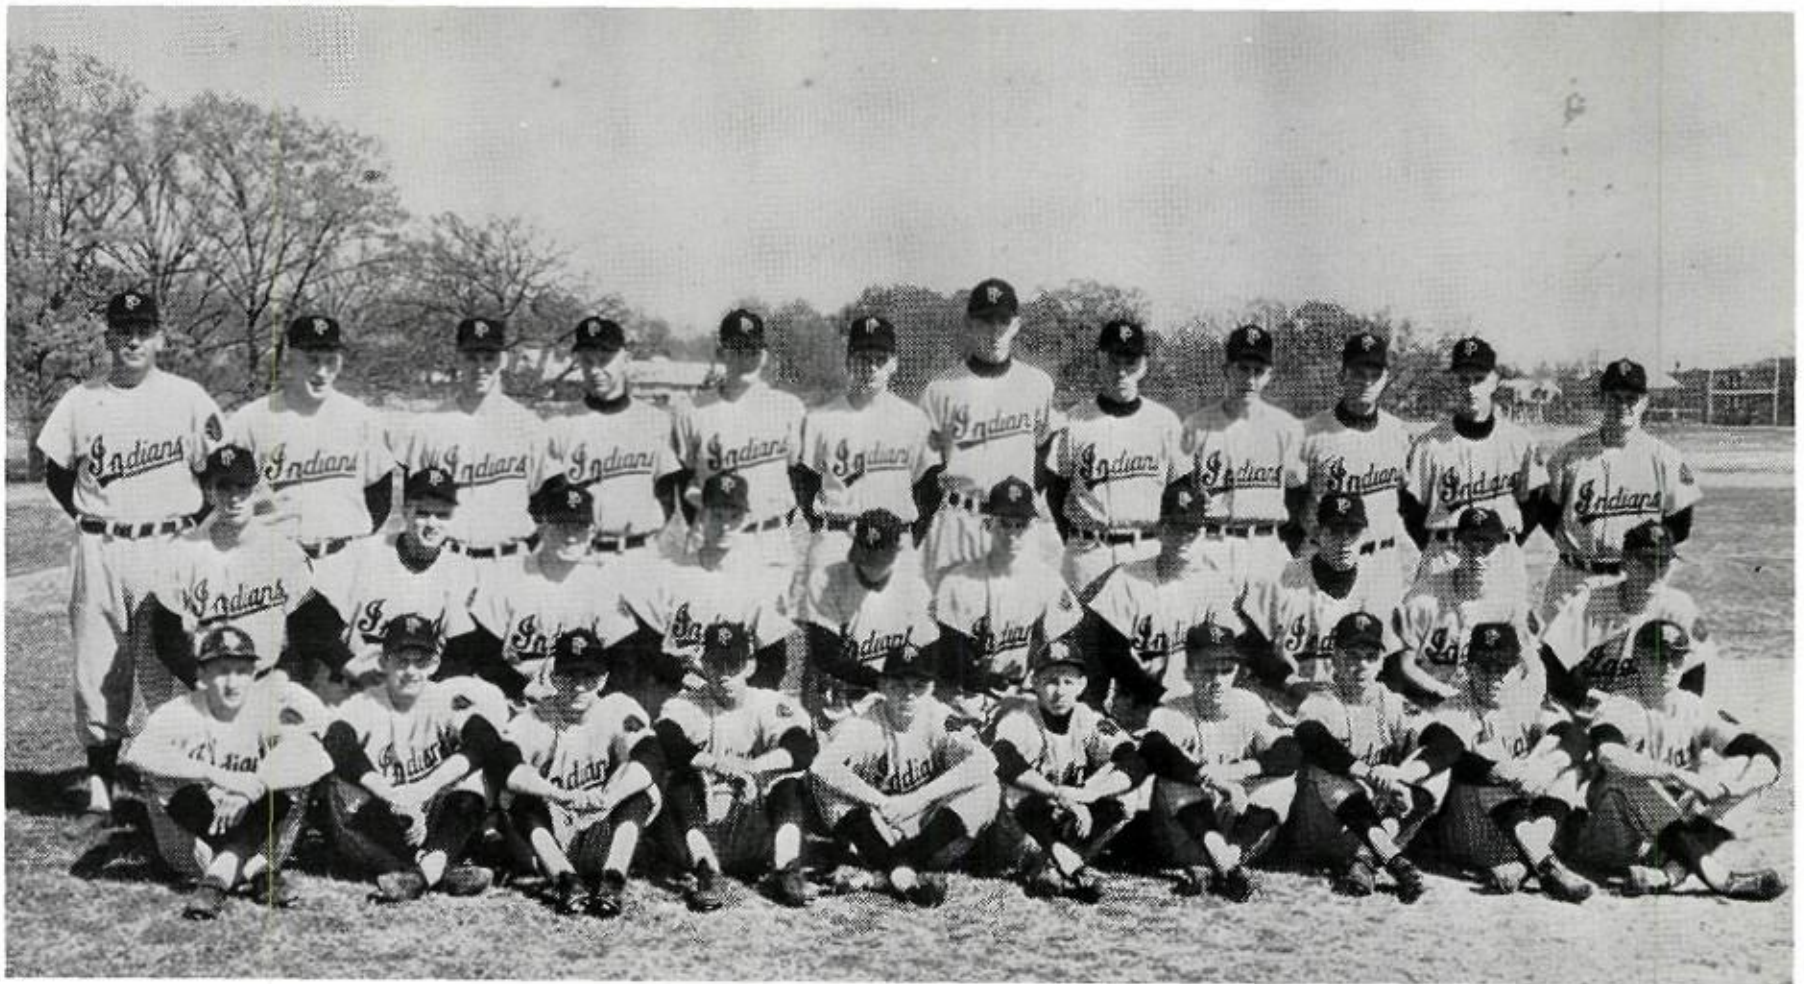

Behind every successful team there is a good coach. Fair Park's James Farrar, who was named Coach-of-the-Year in District 1-AAA, is living proof of this. This well-rounded team well deserved the State Championship.

Managers Mike Grady, Jerry Stephens, and Ben Land were always on hand to lend support and fulfill their job.

Pitcher Gary Johnson demonstrates the correct bunting form, one of the many finer points learned by the Indians, which led them to the championship.

Senior shortstop David Worthington was selected to the All-City, All-District, and All-State teams and chalked up a .341 batting average.

Tommy Chiles, senior pitcher, and All-City, All-District, and All-State selection, sported an impressive earn run average of .93.

Don Calvert, with a perfect hook slide, scores another run in the Indian bid for a win.

Don Calvert, senior catcher, was named All-City, All-District, All-State and had a batting average of .300.

In a crucial play to the game, Maurice Hendrix slides into home plate for the Indians.

Posting an earn run average of .97 and a season record of 7-2 was junior pitcher Ronnie Bell who was named to the All-City 2nd team.

Senior outfielder Jerry Solice was selected to the All-City and All-District teams while batting .339.

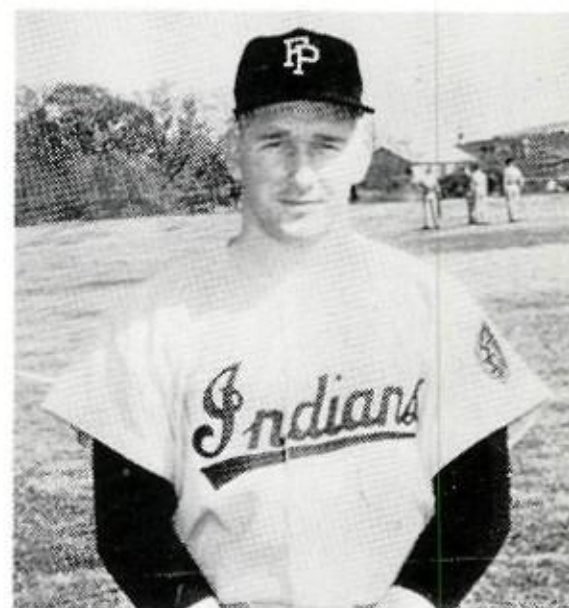

Player of the year in the City was Buddy Nelson who hit .381 and was also named All-City, All-District, and All-State.

Phillip Jennings a senior 2nd baseman had a batting average of .272.

Selected to the All-City, All-District, and All-State teams was senior outfielder Joe Huffman who hit .336 for the campaign.

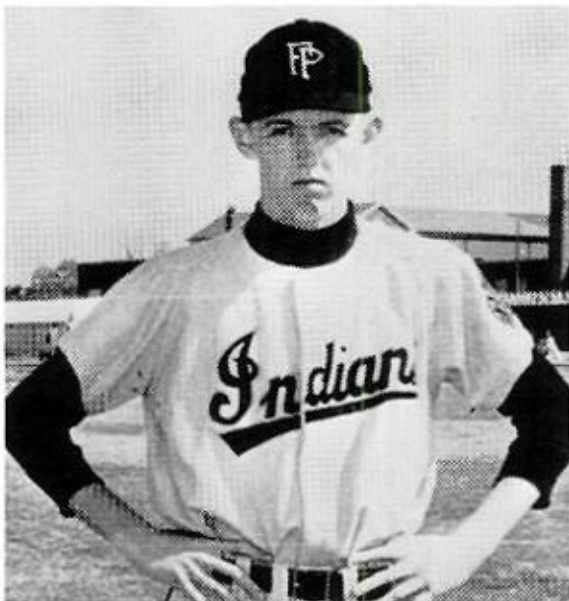

Batting .302 for the year was senior outfielder Franklin Neel.

With a batting average of .321 Danny Turner was our Junior 3rd baseman. Named to the All-City 2nd team.

Going 2-0 for the season was senior pitcher Roger Hicks with an earn run average of 1.20.

Senior pitcher Cary Johnson posting an earn run average of 1.05 and a 8-0 record was named to the 2nd All-City team.

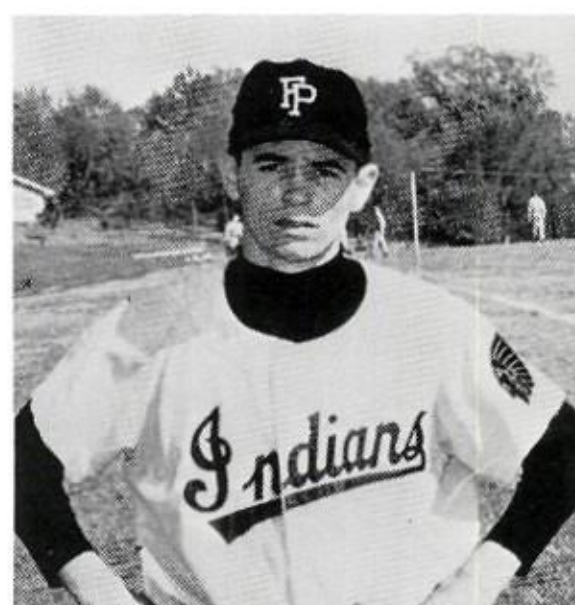

Frank Neel gives a second burst of energy in a race against the ball which is barely out of reach of the first baseman.

James Rushmore, junior pitcher, with a 10-1 record was named to the All-City, All-District, and All-State teams and was chosen Pitcher-of-the-Year in the district.

John Fetzer, junior outfielder, gave reserve strength throughout season.

All-District selection Maurice Hendrix was a senior outfielder hitting .268.

Dick Hicks, sophomore pitcher, had an earn run average of 2.33 and a record of 4-0.

Albert Williamson, junior outfielder, finished with a batting average of .235.

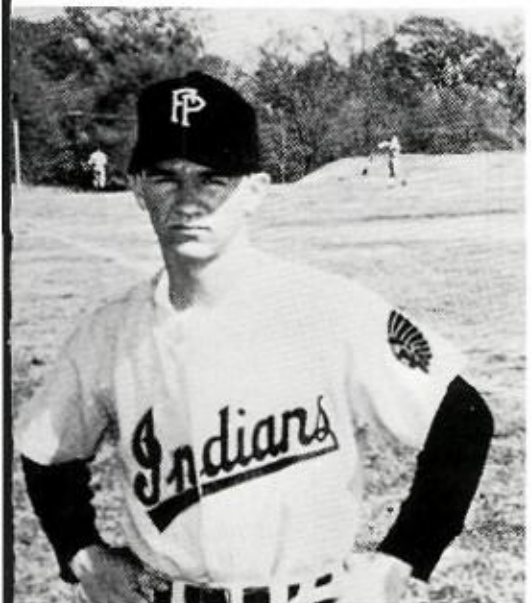

Senior Chester Kelly was an outfielder batting .333.

Leaving behind an earn run average of .86 and a record of 6-1, senior Buddy Chester will be missed.

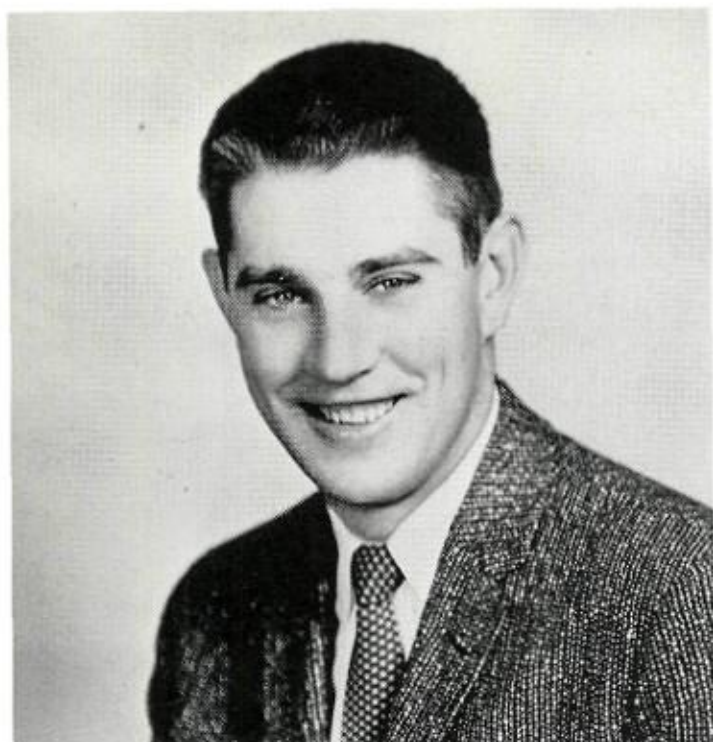

Denny Rogers, senior outfielder, had a batting average of .400 with five times at the plate.

Buddy Nelson takes the throw from James Rushworth in the AAA Championship game.

Dave Worthington tags third and drives for home as Coach Farrar adds his encouragement.

Roger Mann displays the hurdle form which earned him a national ranking, while outdistancing the other entries in the 120 high hurdles with room to spare.

Fair Park Places Third in State

Climaxing one of the finest seasons in Fair Park history, the 1963 track team placed third in the state meet. Competing with the best athletes in the state, the Fair Parkers won the mile relay and 120 high hurdles, while placing second in the 220 low hurdles, broad jump, and 440 yard run.

During the season the Indians were quite active, participating in eleven track meets. As a result of their combined team effort, they won the Haynesville Invitational and placed no lower than third in all of the other meets. Among these was the highly touted meet of champions held in New Orleans. The Indians captured three first places in this meet. Some other meets were Fort Worth Relays, Southwestern Relays, and Woodlawn, Bos-sier, Minden, and Fair Park Invitationals.

The 1963 team was headed by Roger Mann, Stefan Anderson, Barry Harwell and Steve Holt. Mann, who was the chief point-earner of the squad, won almost every hurdle race he entered, and competed in the broad jump and mile relay quartet. At one time during the season he was rated third in the nation in high hurdles.

Anderson, Harwell, and Holt completed the excellent mile relay unit. Anderson excelled in the 440 run and placed second in the state in this event.

Ronnie Terry forges ahead of the Byrd contestant in the enduring mile run, while teammate Terry Bouck follows suit.

Stefan Anderson shows the drive and self-determination needed to become a top runner. This philosophy paid off as Stefan proved himself to be one of the best 440 men in the state.

Steve Holt hands off to Frank Milstid, who eagerly waits to run the anchor leg of the 440 relay.

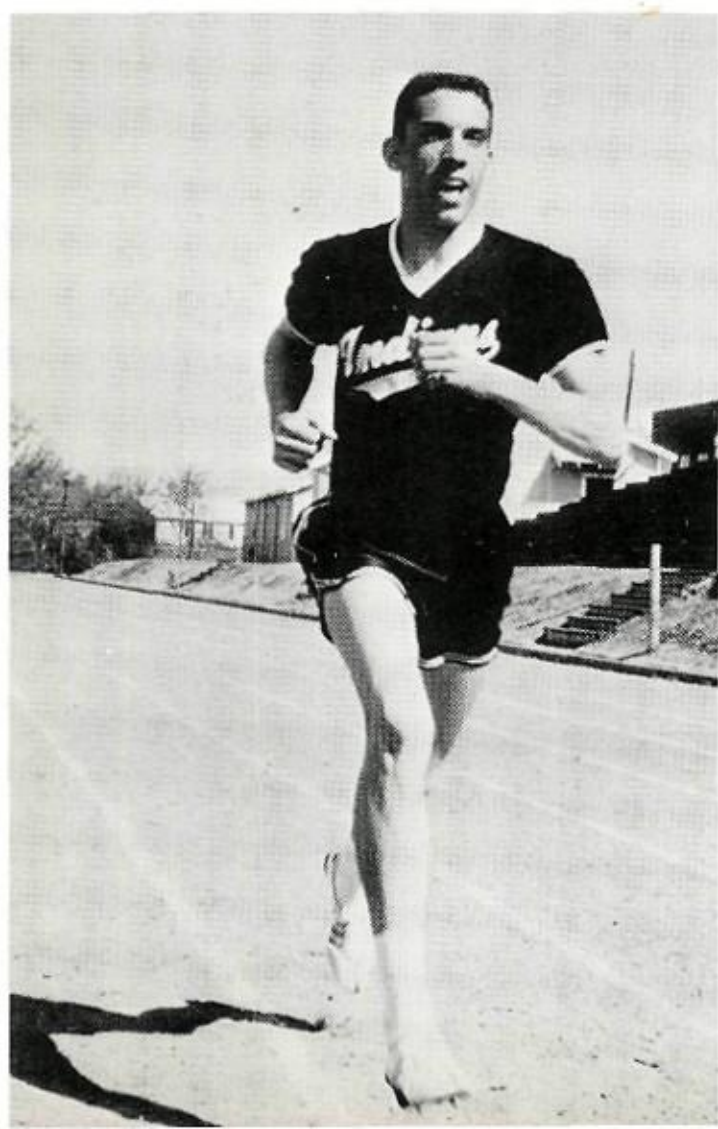

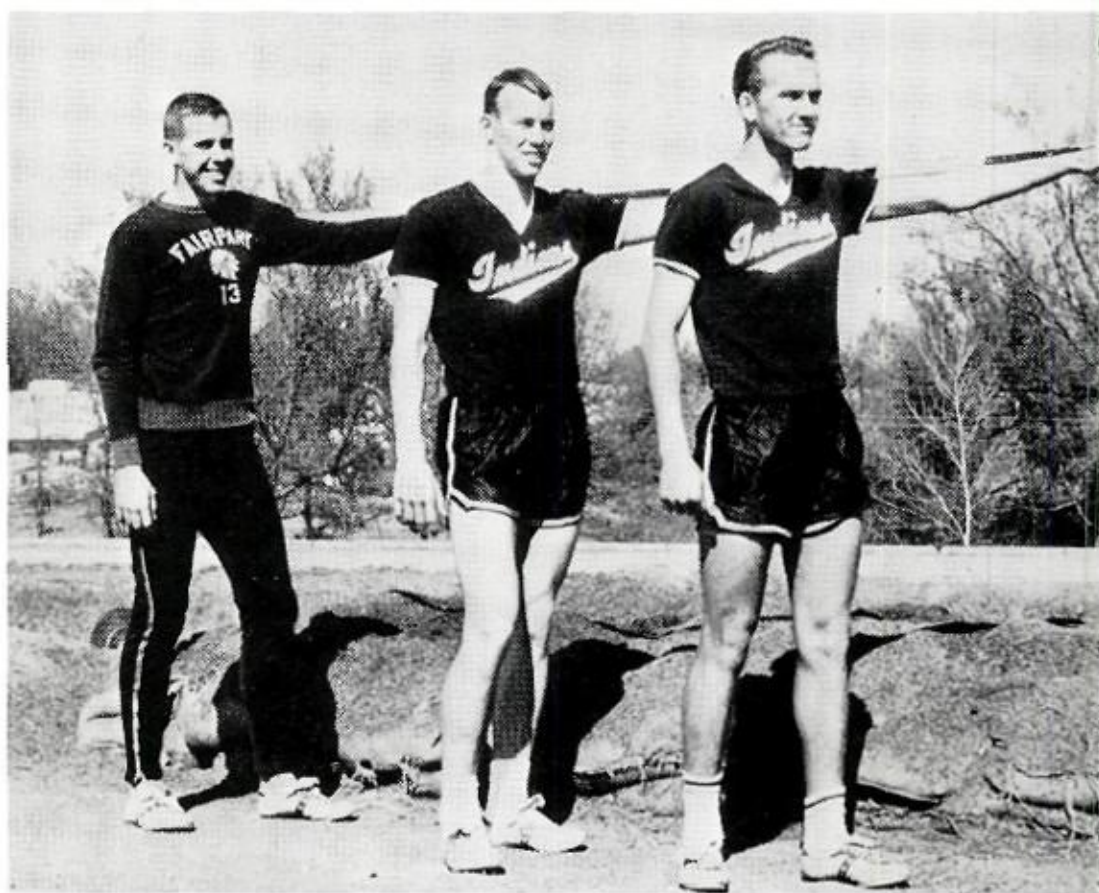

Field men Tommy Tucker, Jesse Carrigan, Rodney Walton, Steve Schmidt, Tony Digilormo, Butch Troegel, Eddie Sims, and Jimmy Ellison pose with appropriate track equipment.

Field Men Have Impressive Season

Barry Harwell, member of the state champion mile relay team and participant in 880 run, takes time out from his daily workout to display his running form.

Highjumpers Andy Fullerton, Tommy Youngblood, and Joey Morgan pose beside crossbar.

Stefan Anderson gives a final effort as he outdistances all of the other competitors in his specialty, the 440 yard run.

Roger Mann, one of the best athletes ever at Fair Park, displays one of his many talents by sailing over the hurdles.

1963 Tennis Team in State Semi-Finals

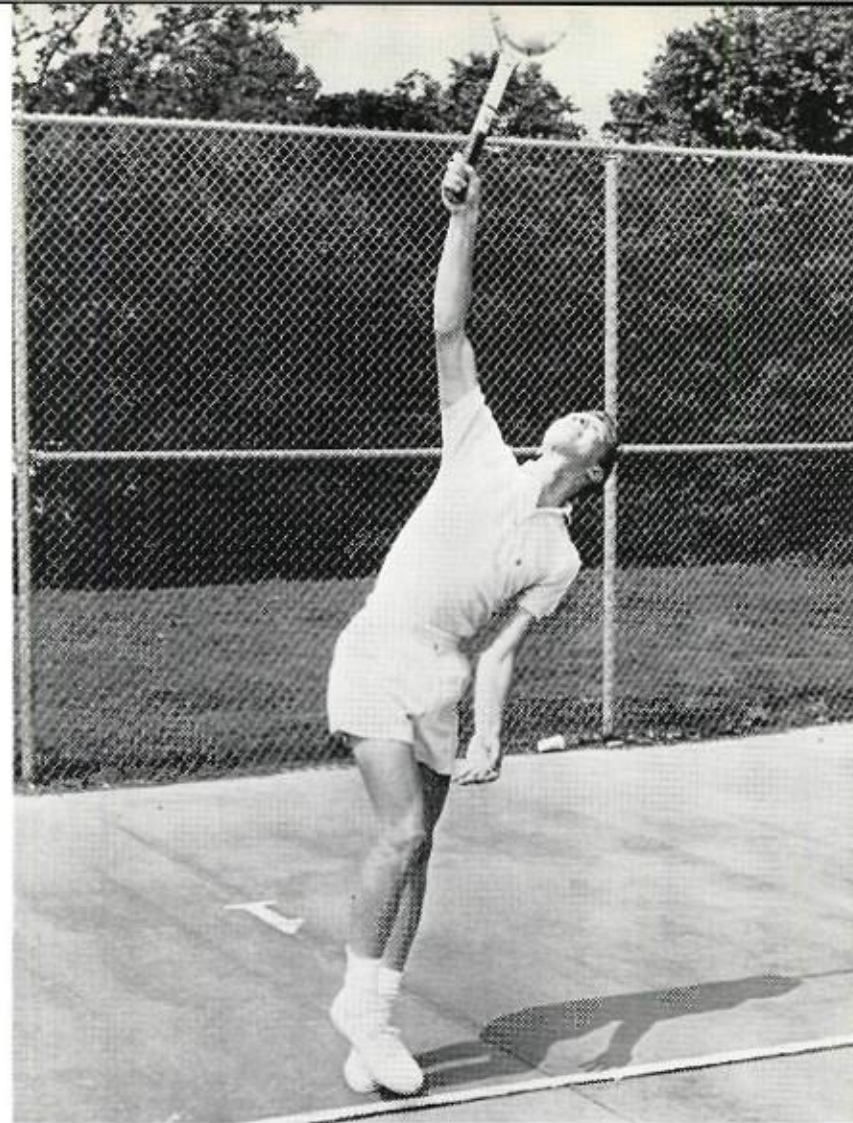

Finishing with a 4-3 record, the 1963 tennis team had a better than average season. This record is very impressive when compared with the fact that their only losses came at the hands of two of the top teams in the state, Byrd and Bolton. In other competition the Indians rolled over Bossier and Woodlawn twice.

The team was led by number one boys' player Jim Pruett and number two player Charles Beasley, while the girls were represented by Sandra Foster and Juanita Ware, number one and two respectively. Pruett and Beasley, who led the 1963 state champion basketball team, formed an effective doubles team, which reached the semi-finals in the state meet.

With the loss of only four members, the team coached by Clem Henderson looks forward to the coming season with experience.

The forehand as shown here by Charles Beasley is one of the most important phases of the tennis game.

Jim Pruett, number one tennis player at Fair Park, demonstrates the serve which earned him that position.

Golf Returns to Fair Park in 1963

During 1963 Fair Park reorganized its golf team after an absence of twenty-three years. The team, coached by Roy Wilson, boasted a 3-3 record for the season. The three wins were against North Caddo and Bossier. Bossier won once against Fair Park and Byrd accounted for the other two losses. John Bolt brought honor to Fair Park by being named to the All-City team.

Tribe Mascots Go on Winning Warpath

Since 1957, Fair Park has had an Indian mascot. The idea developed at a pep rally when during the playing of "Cherokee," the Indian song, one of the students became so enthused that he bounded up onto the stage and began to do a war dance. The students liked the idea and decided to choose a mascot every year. The dancing student, Jim Dowden, became the first mascot. Not until 1962 were two braves added to aid the Big Indian.

This year's trio of mascots, wearing costumes of their own design, add color to games and pep meetings. Performing the Indian war dance, practicing routines with the cheerleaders, decorating for games, and selling tags were among activities of the mascots.

Mascots are chosen at tryouts before a committee consisting of cheerleaders and a group from the faculty.

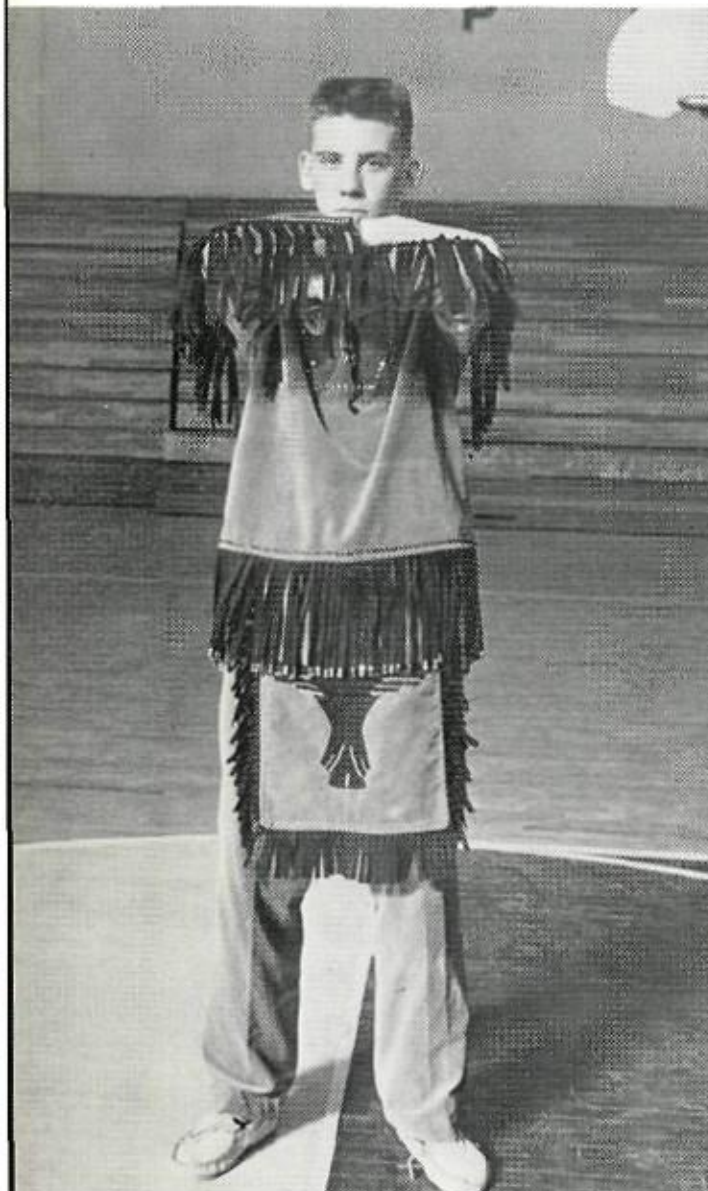

Mascots, Clyde Warren, Tommy Nichols, and Jimmy Copp, strike an arm-folding pose at one of the games.

This year was a busy one for the cheerleaders. Even before school began, they were hard at work learning new cheers and dance routines at cheerleading school in Dallas. Their schooltime activities included not only attending all games, but making posters, planning pep rallies, and selling stickers for the Byrd game. They also had the honor of appearing in the Fair Parade on the KTAL float.

The Honor Legion, founded in 1955 by Mrs. Norman Lindsey and Mr. E. A. Alberson, is one of Fair Park's most readily recognized groups. Three years under the direction of Miss Ira K. Long, the pep squad lightens parades by its snappy step and performs at football games and basketball games.

This year the pep squad changed from the traditional uniform to one of gold blazers and white pleated skirts. The Honor Legion spends long and hard hours during the summer and school year to perfect drills.

To help pay for uniforms and sponsor the annual spring trip, certain projects, such as candy sales and license plate sales, have been undertaken and had great success.

Homecoming Court Reigns Over Game

The 1963 Homecoming Court was presented at the dance following the homecoming game. "Rain, rain, go away," was the plea of all the spectators, but nature paid no heed and showered all. The American Legion Club was the background of the homecoming court presentation. All the Honor Legion's preparations were in vain although with the misfortunes of rain, homecoming was a success. Alumni and students attended a lively dance. The Rhythm Dukes from Northwestern State College provided music of the present era as well as some to bring back fond memories of the alumni attending.

Mr. Earl McKenzie, principal, crowned Jeannie Hearne Queen of the court and presented Sandra Kelly, football sweetheart, with a gold football charm.

The night whirled on as the music filled the room. All students agreed that it was one of the most successful dances they had attended.

Military

Leadership, patriotism, self discipline—these are the goals of the R.O.T.C., goals which are especially important today to the maturity of our students. Through the knowledge gained in this unique instruction the cadets of Fair Park are preparing for the future, a future of citizenship and leadership in the community, a future of service and success through individual initiative, but most of all a future made secure through work and discipline.

The First Battle Group of Fair Park has built a tradition upon these goals, a tradition honored for its endurance and praised for its success. It was awarded an honor school rating last year as it has been almost annually. Confident of receiving the award again this year, the Corps sought new standards to establish. Outside Fair Park the Corps was represented to the public by a rifle team ranked second in the nation and a state champion drill team. The time devoted by each member of the R.O.T.C. program to maintaining the high standards have surely brought rewards, but more important it has given each cadet a sense of self-satisfaction in realizing his growth of character. This is the R.O.T.C. program of Fair Park.

Battle Group Staff Determines Policies

The Battle Group Staff consists of the Battle Group Commander, Deputy Battle Group Commander, and five Majors with their sponsors. The Staff controls the Corps and coordinates all R.O.T.C. activities.

Under the direction of the military instructors, these officers are the commanding body of the entire Corps. They determine to a large extent the policies of leadership followed by all officers. The smooth manner in which the R.O.T.C. program was conducted this year reflects the many hours of work put in during and after school by Battle Group Commander Mike Lewter and the members of the Staff.

Special Staff Leads Competitive Teams

Guiding the Drill Team and the Rifle Team is the task of the Special Staff. Being extra-curricular activities of the R.O.T.C., these officers possess jobs of leadership not like those of the corps. The outstanding military students comprise the teams and obtaining the full potential of the members requires a knowledge of leadership and firmness of conviction. The showings these teams make in their military competitions and public performances is greatly dependent upon the abilities of these officers to unify a team of individuals. The many awards and honors bestowed upon both of these teams during the year are a credit to their abilities and have upheld the traditions and reputations established by previous teams.

Being Commandant of Cadets is an active job, as M/Sgt. Jones will readily admit. Public relations handled by him are only one phase of his service.

Champion Rifle Team Nationally Ranked

After winning the Fourth Army championship and being ranked second in the nation, Fair Park's Rifle Team had the formidable job of forming a new team. The mainstay of the team, Major Howard Brown, who was the national individual champion last year, was the only experienced firer at the beginning of the year, but a talented group of Juniors took over and filled another outstanding Rifle Team at Fair Park. The team fired in matches at Center, Texas, Louisiana Tech, Arlington, Texas, and Huntsville, Texas. They also competed against Byrd and Woodlawn in the City League.

As always, a maximum effort from the team could bring Fair Park another Fourth Army champion as each member is capable of a high score. Two national meets, the William Randolph Hearst Meet, and the Inter-Scholastic Meet are to be fired in, also.

Dixie Drill Platoon Stresses Precision

Following in the steps of an outstanding team is never an easy task, but the Dixie Drill Platoon rose to the challenge and made this year's Drill Team as outstanding as ever. This year the team marched at the Holiday in Dixie, East Texas Baptist Homecoming, Miss Shreveport Parade, the city competition with Woodlawn and Byrd, and the Arlington State College Fourth Army Meet.

New and more difficult movements such as Manual to the Rear have further added to the Team's polish and provided possibly the best team yet. The many long hours of work by the unit have all been aimed toward the competition at Arlington which decides the Fourth Army champion. This year the team hopes to win the meet and bring the first championship to Fair Park.

"Secure Arms" is executed by the platoon. A precision cadence in rifle manual is all important in competition.

The kneebend is a main portion of the team's manual. The Dixie Drill Platoon is famous for its variations of the kneebend.

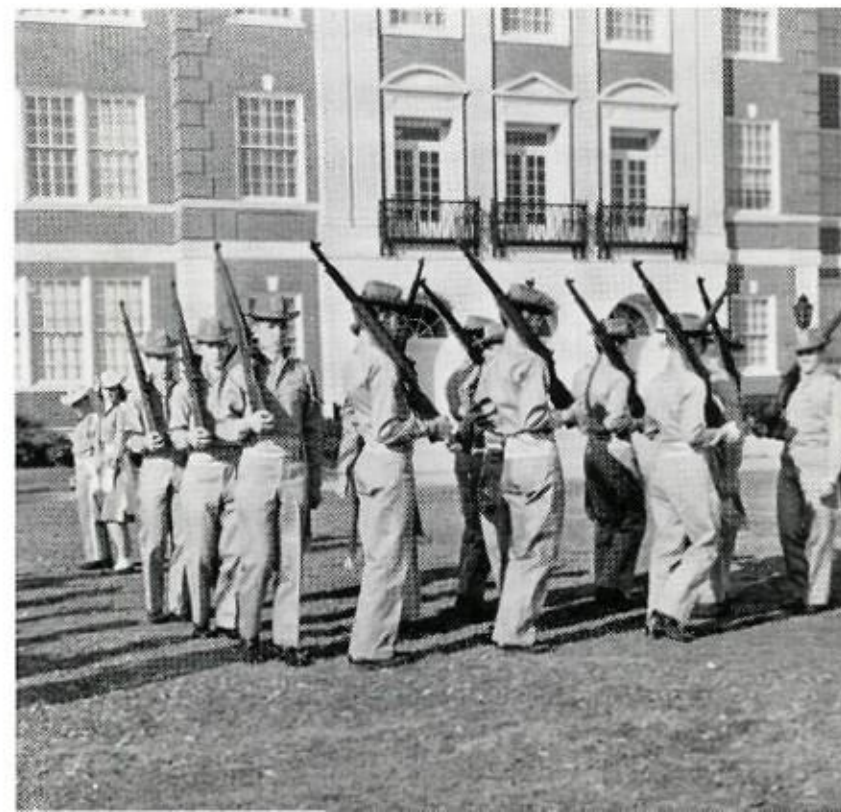

Commander Ed Bridges and Sponsor Diann Leslie plan their strategy with Sgt. Hewitt.

Perfectly dressed rifles are the secret to a precision appearance.

The half-step and arm swing add a touch of originality to the drilling.

Interlacing platoon is the manner by which the team marches to the rear.

Love that

Commercial National Bank

SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA
MEMBER FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

The advertisement for Commercial National Bank features a whimsical illustration of Cupid on the left, holding a bow and arrow, surrounded by small hearts and stars. To the right, a large heart contains a logo of an eagle perched on a classical building. The text "Love that" is written in a cursive font above the bank's name, which is also in a large, elegant cursive font. At the bottom, the bank's location and its membership in the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation are noted in a simple, sans-serif font.

Charles Grimm adds to the excitement of the Beat Byrd Day with a replica of a wounded Yellow Jacket. His costume is typical of those worn that day.

Throughout the past year it has been the job of the Sequoyah Editorial Staff to capture in pictures and words the exciting moments and events which everyone will want to remember. We have tried to achieve this by representing Fair Park and its varied life as a motion picture, seen from the eyes of the Sequoyah camera.

The completion of this job required the help and cooperation of many friends. My thanks go to Milburne's Studio and the Taylor Publishing Company for their time and assistance.

I wish to thank Miss Sammie Banks for the many hours of work she contributed and for her friendship. Most of all I wish to thank the staff who worked diligently to make the year's Sequoyah the best. With their combined efforts we were able to record the memorable events which make up life at Fair Park. To these editors, Marie Dillard, Steve McDonald, Alice Godwin, Ann Benbow, Rae Reynolds, Tommy Walters, Bill Chandler, and Talmage Vance, I give my thanks.

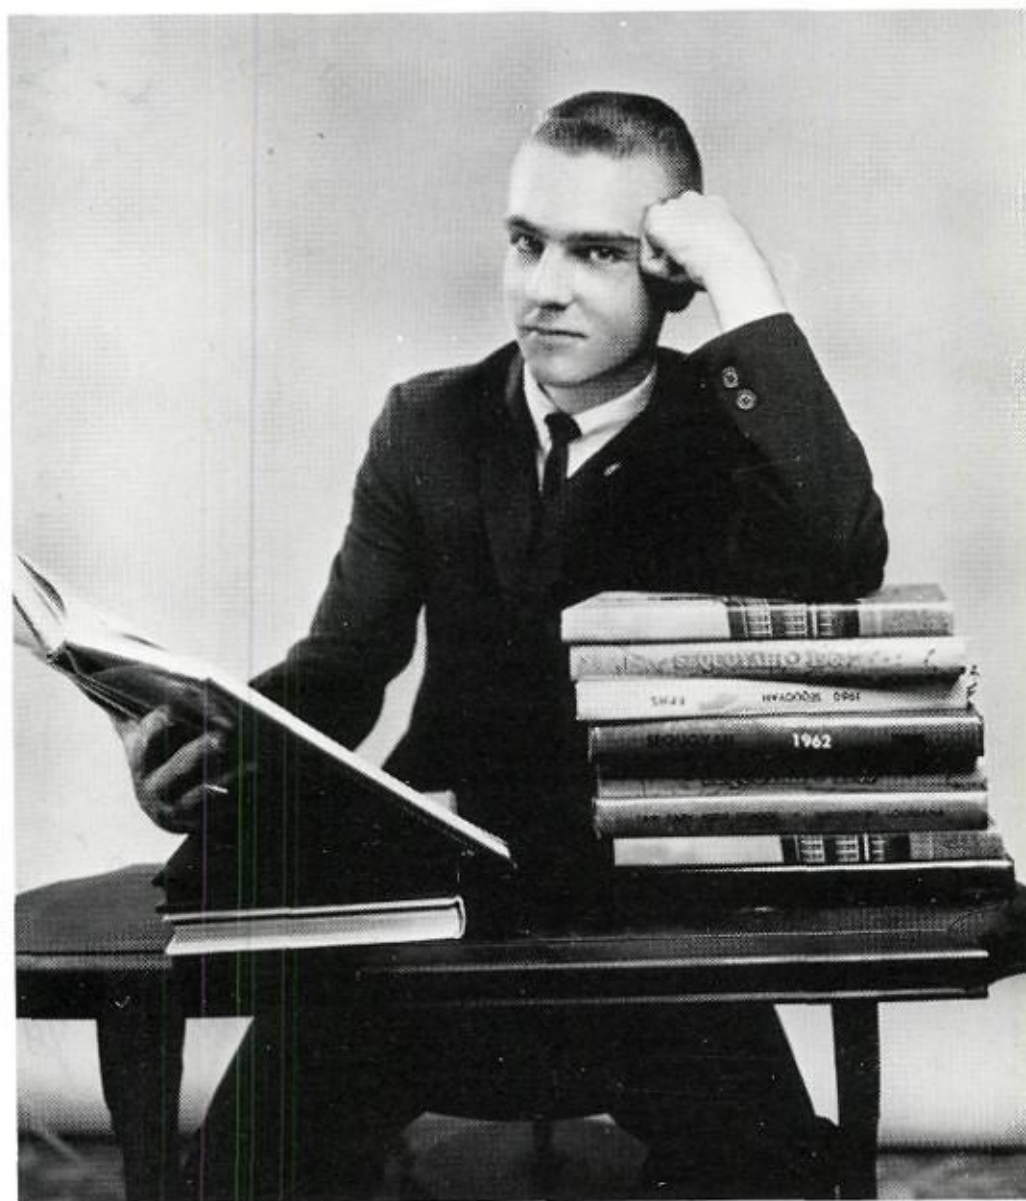

We of the Sequoyah staff hope that throughout the years the 1964 Sequoyah will bring back pleasant memories of high school and the Indian way of life.

*Chris,
You are a great guy! I'll always remember you! Best of luck always, you deserve it! I hope we'll always be best of friends!
Love ya,

 To the smallest but,
 smartest person. But is really has been fun being in the same class with you.

Chris,
 you are a fabulous
 boy, who I love dearly.
 Please stay the very same always. I hope we get some classes together next year!
 Love ya always,

Chris,
I've really enjoyed circus this year, not because of the work we had to do, but because of all the cute interesting boys (and girls) I meet.
I surely hope we get in a class together next year. Good luck!
Love,

Chris,
It's great (no, I started that wrong). I'm great, and you're lucky to have been able to meet me this year. (JOKE) Really you're all right and I wish you a whole lot of good luck. Your comrade,
